COMPANY REPORT

Mercantile Bank Profit For Last Year

The report of the Directors of the Mercantile Bank of India, Ltd., for the year ending December 31, 1940, states:

The balance of Profit and Loss Account for the year amounts to £1,106,106 2s. 7d. and the amount available after adding £179,638 14s. 9d. brought forward from last account is £1,285,745 4s. 4d. From this sum has to be deducted £63,000, being the interim dividend of 6 per cent., less Income Tax, on the "A," "B," and "C" Shares paid in September last.

The Directors have added £13,000 to the Officers' Pension Fund, written £25,000 off Freehold Banking Premises, and made an additional allocation of £30,000 to Contingencies Account. They have declared a second interim dividend on the "A," "B," and "C" Shares of 6 per cent., less Income Tax (making 12 per cent. for the year), and, as they do not recommend any further distribution, this leaves £1,817,745 4s. 4d. to be carried forward.

The services of the Right Hon. Lord Catto of Colchester being retained by His Majesty's Government, it became necessary for him to resign his business appointments and he accordingly vacated his seat on the Board on June 30, 1940.

The Directors record with deep regret the death of their colleague the Right Hon. Lord Abernethy of Tullybelton on December 6, 1940.

Sir John George Hay has been appointed to a seat on the Board, and under Article 97 of the Articles of Association offers himself for re-election.

The following Directors retire by rotation under Articles 116 and 117 of the Articles of Association, being eligible, offer themselves for re-election: Mr. C. H. Figg, the Hon. R. H. Wilson Smith.

The report was to be presented at the annual meeting on May 20 in London.

Tighten Up Your Overcalls!

A LIGHT opening bid is not nearly so dangerous as a questionable overcall. At match-point duplicate, particularly, a third-hand bidder is apt to take all sorts of liberties, opening on as little as 1½ honour-tricks. This does not mean, however, that fourth hand can overcall with impunity. The opener's partner, though he passed originally, is still to be reckoned with. Note to-day's hand.

Match-point duplicate.

The bidding: East South
Pass Pass 1♦ 2♣
Pass Pass Pass Pass

Perhaps it is superfluous to point out that East's diamond bid was more psychic than honest. South's overcall, vulnerable, had no alibi whatsoever; it was just a poor bid. As to East's leave-in of the penalty double, either his courage or his optimism was very high. It must be admitted, however, that he would have had to look hard for a safe takeout.

After West had opened the diamond ace and seen dummy, a diamond continuation seemed unattractive, particularly since East had played the deuce. West correctly shifted to his top heart. Declarer won and laid down the club ace; then, when the jack fell, led a low club to dummy's ten. The heart king was cashed and then, with no convenient egress from the dummy, declarer played the diamond queen. East won and returned another diamond.

West ruffed with the club six and, without perceptible hesitation, undeplayed the spade ace. Declarer, who had carefully noted that to date East had shown only the diamond king and heart ace, hardly could fail to guess wrong at this point. He let the lead ride to his own jack. East put up the queen and returned the thirteenth heart. Declarer, seeing what was coming, threw his losing spade, but this did not avail because East then played his last diamond, thus assuring West of a trump trick.

Excellent defence—specifically West's underlead of the spade ace—had compensated for East's semi-psychic opening bid.

To-morrow's Hand.

SHE NEVER SMILED FOR FIVE YEARS

By SYLVIA PANKHURST

Sylvia Pankhurst, former Suffragist leader and now active worker for the cause of Abyssinian freedom, has just interviewed the Empress of Abyssinia. In this interview the Empress disclosed for the first time her plans to return home. Sylvia Pankhurst has been an intimate friend of the Empress for five years, and is the editor of "New Times and Ethiopia News."

FOR FIVE YEARS THE EMPRESS OF ETHIOPIA NEVER SMILED. Gracious and gentle, never abandoning faith in her country's ultimate liberation, she has had the agony of her people under Mussolini's rule always present to her mind.

When she went to London from her home in Bath after the great news of Ethiopian successes and the falling fortunes of the Fascist invaders, one would scarcely have recognised her. One saw her now as she was in her own capital—vivacious, strong, with sparkling eyes and ready smiles, the varied expressions of her eager thoughts succeeding rapidly—a very gallant lady.

In her exiled home in Bath she has hoped and planned for the return to Ethiopia all these five years.

She insisted that her children and grandchildren in exile with her should study unceasingly to fit themselves for the great part of leaders in the development of their native country. The Crown Prince studied with a tutor, and afterwards at Liverpool University; the Duke of Harrar at Wellington College; the Princess Tsahai, following her own ardent desire, became a nurse at the Children's Hospital, Great Ormond Street, and, after qualifying as a State Registered nurse, went to Guy's for further experience.

GALLANT CHIEF EVEN THE ELDER DAUGHTER OF THE

Empress, the widowed Princess Tanagne, has been working to equip herself for future responsibilities. She is the widow of Ras Desta, who continued to fight the Italians among the forests of Sidamo for two years after the Emperor had started on his historic mission to Europe, which has resulted in Ethiopia's alliance with Britain to fight the Axis, and his triumphant return to his country.

Ras Desta was finally captured by the soldiers of Mussolini, and instead of receiving the honours due to a prisoner of war, was shot and decapitated, his head being carried round as a sign of Italian vengeance. The murder of this magnificent son-in-law, who was an ardent co-operator in the great social reforms of the Emperor and Empress, and a most able and generous man, is one of the deep sorrows which have fallen upon the Imperial family and the people of Ethiopia.

MUCH TO BE DONE

"And when I am home again," she said with radiant happiness, "how much I shall have to do! My school for girls—they have made a barracks of it; but it will be reopened as soon as I return."

The Mennen Lyceum of which she spoke the first Ethiopian high school for girls, on modern European lines, was a cherished work of the Empress. She wanted to start it when the Emperor was regent and the Empress Zauditu was on the throne. The Empress Zauditu, daughter of the Emperor Menelik II, occupied the throne with the Emperor Haile Selassie, then Ras Makonnen, as Regent. But, steeped in the old traditions, Zauditu considered such innovations unnecessary. She thought the old style schools quite sufficient.

When Empress Menenik came to the throne the high school was her first project. A distinguished Frenchwoman was selected as headmistress, and most of her assistants were French or British. The curriculum was the same as that of a good boys' grammar school, with gymnastics and sports, music, painting, and also domestic science. Modern languages were a strong point. The school was an instant success. It started with 100 boarders, and many more day pupils. The little dark girls in their "gym" tunics vaulted and leapt and climbed with all the vim and go of British or American girls.

"The child marriage is the worst of African customs," the Empress told me. "My advice has been: keep your girls at school and do not let them marry till they are 18 at the very earliest."

HOSPITAL WORK

THE EMPRESS was active in the work of the hospitals especially that for maternity, the mothers' and babies' welfare centres, and clinics which she helped to found in Ethiopia.

When all the progressive work in which she took so zealous a share was broken off short by Mussolini's outrageous and unprovoked aggression the Empress Menenik showed her courage and her quality. She called together the women of the capital, and urged them to join in patriotic effort first, of which she herself was president, undertook to assist the provisioning of the army.

Under its auspices hundreds of women of all ranks met at the palace daily, seasoning meat with salt and pepper and other condiments, and drying it in the hot African sun. According to Ethiopian custom, they baked a sort of hard bread of many nourishing ingredients mixed with butter and made into small cakes, sometimes no larger than a bean and so light that a soldier could carry on his back, together with his other equipment, sufficient to feed him for a month with only water in addition. Some of this bread was ground into powder and put in sacks, to be eaten dry, or mixed with water, and cooked in various ways.

Under the presidency of the Princess Tsahai, another organisation of women made gas masks which covered the face and which were coloured dark brown, not to show out to the enemy. They were beautifully made. The European doctors praised the skillful work, but the deadly yperite which the Italians sprayed from their planes on men, women, and children, flocks and crops, was used on too large a scale, and was of too destructive a character, for their amateur gas masks to cope with it. The yperite burnt the clothes, the hair, the very skin; it left only a painful cavity where once were eyes.

HIGH HOPES

ALL THAT THE EMPRESS SAW AS she visited gas sufferers in the hospitals. Such sad memories will never leave her, but to-day hope and impulse for the great return overwhelm all other feelings.

"My plans? To return home; to open again the schools and the hospitals, which the invaders have diverted to other uses; to continue my work which was only beginning; to open other high schools for the girls in all the towns; to wipe out illiteracy, to establish efficient care of maternity and infancy, on the lines we had begun in the capital, throughout the country."

The Italian occupation will have left behind many sad problems, with which the Empress and her people will have to cope; women widowed, children orphaned, families scattered, property destroyed. Farms have been laid waste, flocks and herds wantonly slaughtered; a great rebuilding will be required. The Empress will take a capable and courageous share in the work of reconstruction.

In expressing her great joy at the prospect of going home, the Empress gave her thanks to all the friends in Britain, Europe, and the United States who have helped to defend the cause of Ethiopia and justify her faith in the triumph of justice throughout the world is firm and bright.

SENSELESS ACTION

THE repeated Japanese bombing attacks on Chungking have lately been of increasing viciousness, and though the civilian population has not suffered more than usual, the so-called "safe" zone and the Embassy and foreign press quarter have been struck several times, injuries and damage being inflicted.

The British Embassy, and the foreign press hostel nearby, have always been outside the "safe" zone which is on the south bank of the river and comprises British and American business houses, the American and French Embassies and a Chinese residential area. The British Embassy is in the heart of the Chinese city and far from any military objective—a fact which would normally secure it against attack apart altogether from the large identification it wears and which has been repeatedly revealed to the Japanese in un molested low altitude flights round the buildings.

It is significant that Mr R. A. Butler, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said in reply to a question in the Commons that it was not thought worthwhile to protest again, since His Majesty's Government's views on the bombing of civilians were well known.

The unfortunate aspect of this admission seems to be that His Majesty's Government evidently does not think that its protest would carry the desired weight; that a further protest would enjoy no better reception in Tokyo than earlier notes in a similar vein. However, there is the danger that if no official cognisance is taken of the affair, a precedence is created which might lead to a sort of unofficial warfare. When Tokyo ignores the bad or good aiming of its bombers, according to whether that aim is deliberate or not, then it is tacitly approving those actions. Such a state of affairs leads to the undermining of confidence between Governments, often followed by "misunderstandings" and deliberate antagonism.

The fact that Britain and America are assisting China has nothing to do with the constant bombing of the British Embassy at Chungking and does not excuse such wanton acts in the smallest degree. Ours is a stated and official policy and we would not stoop to such underhand aggravation of an already tense situation as "accidental" bombing. If the Japanese Air Force are really so bad that Tokyo must apologise for their inaccuracy, then that is one more reason why Japan should not seek more enemies. If, on the other hand, their aim is deliberate, then Japan does infinite harm

It cannot be denied that the worship men bestow upon money is one of the fundamental causes of war, and if we are to erect a saner world we shall have to break down this false god.

THE GOD WE WORSHIP

By the Rev.

W. ROWLAND JONES

Vicar of Denton, Manchester

WE worship to-day not God but Gold.

The temples of this false god are erected at innumerable street corners. He claims the most desirable sites.

Houses for the workers cannot be erected, homes for the aged cannot be built, but these rich temples for the god we worship never cease to spring up.

He is a god who thrives on sacrifice. Best of all, he likes human sacrifice. Wars are fought at his behest.

When he speaks the armies march and the squadrons fly; upon their tribute to him their very strength depends.

He is a ruthless god, and a fickle one. He will raise men to great dignity, and then, by a turn of his merciless wheel, he will cast them off, and trample them in the mire.

Yet they go on worshipping him.

He has his own High Priests, who speak mystic words in his praise. "If you are not initiated," they tell us, "you will not understand. The rites and the ritual are not for the common herd. It is beyond their comprehension—how dare they presume to know? That is our province!"

The Churches, who pretend to worship the true God, are slaves to this false god, who is known by many names, though his chief votaries usually call him High Finance.

His millions of worshippers are less reverend, and prefer more homely names. In my part of the country they call this honoured deity by the familiar title, "Brass!"

The Gold God

Jesus spoke always of Mammon, and He said that it was impossible to be a worshipper of Mammon, and, at the same time, a worshipper of God.

You can't serve God and Gold.

But the followers of Jesus have never quite learnt that lesson. I used to attend Church Conferences at one time, but we heard so much about money and so little about men's souls, so much of Mammon and so little of Christ, that I decided to give up attending.

I still have letters from the Diocese about it. Every one of the letters asks for more and more money.

I find that the Church of England is a very wealthy Church. Its money comes from ground rents on public houses, race-courses, dog-tracks, and from much poor property.

The money is not refused, although the Bishops and clergy have so much to say about gambling and drinking.

This absorption with money has turned the Church of England into a vast money-raising institution which provides economic security for a huge army of clerks, secretaries, typists and lawyers, to say nothing of clerical officials.

to her own integrity. Incidents of this kind simply strengthen the bonds between Britain and China.

It is ironical that pamphlets, urging that immediate peace between China and Japan would lead to peace throughout all Asia, were dropped with the bombs. That is another subterfuge that could well be dispensed with.

Never before did actions speak so much louder than words.

I do not think that Jesus meant His followers to maintain an organisation like that, and to call it by His sacred name.

The snare of money enslaves the Church. Our devotion to this yellow god we worship is shown in our common speech.

"What did you make?" asked a man in the market-place. He did not mean, "What service did you give to humanity?" He meant, "How much more money were you able to bank?"

A mourning party stood outside my church. "How much did he leave?" asked a bystander. He did not inquire how much he left of real value for the benefit of mankind. He was simply talking about the god men worship—money.

A man on the bus said in my hearing, "If this war ends too soon our firm will go bankrupt." That seemed to him sufficient reason for continuing the war.

It cannot be denied that the worship men bestow upon money is one of the fundamental causes of war, and if we are going to erect a saner world where men can live in security and happiness, and where nations shall not live in constant fear of war, we shall have to break down the alters of this false god, Mammon.

The biggest obstacle will be found in the common idea that finance is a complicated and mysterious thing which only the brains of high financiers can fathom.

Men always prefer to worship a god who is surrounded by mystery, and that is the reason why those who find personal gain by men's slavery to Mammon instil in our minds how intricate and complicated are the rules which govern our monetary system.

The only purpose I can see in money is as a means to enable inhabitants of a country to buy all they wish of what they make and import.

High Finance

It therefore seems obvious that the total amount of money should bear a direct relationship to produce and goods.

It also seems obvious to me that every man, woman and child in a country should have sufficient money to provide them with the necessities of life, and a little over for recreation.

The high financier, of course, will shake his head wisely, and say something which really means, "You poor mutt! Do you really think that is possible? It's far more complicated than that."

It may or may not be, but emphatically I say this: The lives of thousands of my fellow countrymen are turned into misery and struggle and wretchedness in the ceaseless, soul-destroying effort to make reluctant ends meet.

Women's lives are turned into an agony trying to pay the family budget on too small an allowance.

I cannot get them to take an interest in God because they are perpetually harassed by short-

God has given in profusion for their use.

Then I read of a city council spending £7 to provide lunch for ten men.

I know it is not only unchristian but morally wrong, and in the name of Christ, who told us that a man's worth did not consist in the money he possessed, I say to our Government and our high financiers:—

"I may not be able to understand your mysterious monetary system, but I know that it is unchristian because it turns men's lives into slavery and plunges the world perpetually into war."

"You've got to find a new system which shall make money no longer our master, but our servant."

"You've got to find a system which shall provide every one of God's children with sufficient money for life, so that he will never have to think of money again."

"It is best forgotten because there are so many more important thoughts to hold in life."

I have also a deep suspicion that our money muddles have very largely arisen through the most questionable and dangerous practice of charging interest on money.

"I Am Right"

There was a time when the Church held that usury was wrong. As in so many other things, the Church surrendered its judgment through the pressure of the world.

Men no longer think it is wrong to charge interest on money. Consequently I am staggered to discover that out of 8s. 6d. charged as Income Tax, 8s. goes to interest and debt charges with only 6d. available for State services.

No doubt High Finance will be able to explain that away in the interest of the god it worships and serves.

The measure of our worship of this false god Mammon was never so clearly revealed as in the poster which is being used to boost our War Savings Weeks: "Men are giving their lives; will you not lend your money?"

When we want men's lives for war we do not hesitate to take them.

When we want men's money, we borrow it, if they are prepared to lend—and even for that privilege we are prepared to pay them.

Yes, I am sure I am right! Mammon is the god we worship.

DRESS AND GOSSIP

THE GENERAL MANAGER of the Glasgow Corporation Transport Department has issued to the women conductors on his undertaking a leaflet which purports to give advice to these ladies on the daring subject of dress and deportment. We have no doubt that the instruction given is necessary if efficiency is to be kept up to a reasonably high average, but it is unfortunate that such efficiency should have to be attained at the expense of two of women's most highly-prized attributes, the expression of their personality by those individual touches to their attire which require no patent rights because they can never be duplicated, and that friendly gossip in which it is the inalienable right of women to indulge.

If we have not completely dissipated the learning which was forced upon our unwilling minds many years ago we might quote the Latin poet Ovid, who knew a great deal about the psychology of dress. "Pars Minima est ipsa puella sui," said that Roman expert, and the broad translation that "a girl is the least part of herself," while owing a great deal to poetic licence, has sufficient truth left in it to be worth remembering even in these regimented and materialistic days.

The uniformed ladies on the Glasgow vehicles may all conform to the dicta which insists that the hat must be worn forward on the brow, that the shape of the hat must not be altered; that the hair must be dressed to clear the coat collar; but even within the narrow limits left to them personally and for dress effects will make themselves felt, and we pity the poor male who will be called upon to give judgment when any of the conductresses are "on the mat" for breaches of the dress regulations. He will require the wisdom of Solomon and the dress sense of a Paquin.

BUT MOST OF ALL do we regret the admonishment to the ladies not to gossip with passengers. Who among us has not had the pleasant experience of having a journey shortened by the jocularity of a conductor, or by listening in to his comments on events which may be confusing either his immediate world or the greater world beyond?

The irrepressibility of the Cockney bus conductor is a byword; he actually heightened the already bright life of the Metropolis in those far-off days when there was light, and even now his merry gossip is sometimes the only light thing on a darkened journey. How much more then could we enjoy the prattle of a Scots lassie over the weary stretch, say, from Parkhead to Shettleston?

IF NIGHTINGALES ARE PERMITTED in Berkeley Square surely Mr R. F. Smith will not insist on silence in Sauchiehall Street. We sympathise with him on the necessity of having to make rule on the dress and deportment of his women conductors, but may we plead on their behalf, and perhaps also on behalf of the more human of the passengers for whom he caters, that the rules be interpreted with a liberality through which personality may lose its dainty little head—From "Passenger Transportation Journal."

Recreio "A" Beaten By Surprising Margin: Set-Back For Indian R.C.

HOME TEAMS had a field day in the Lawn Bowls League last week. Without exception, visiting teams were on the losing side, the most notable result being the 5-0 victory scored by Craigengower C.C. over the champions, Recreio "A".

League Tennis

C.R.C. Defeat University 5-4 In "C" Division

THREE of the five league tennis matches in the "C" Division were played yesterday, the K. Indians-Kowloon C.C. and Craigengower-Recreio games being postponed.

Chinese Recreation Club scored another victory, narrowly beating the University by 5-4, while South China also forged ahead with a 5-2-3½ win over the Army.

T. C. Lo and P. Lai were the only University pair that gained any measure of success against the Chinese R.C. winning two of their matches and drawing the other.

K. I. Chan and H. N. Wong contributed largely to South China's win over the Army, winning as they did all three of their games.

Scores were:

I.R.C. 3, K. Tong 6

Indians lost to Kowloon Tong 3-6.

A. Haiman and I. Kitchell lost to D. Chen and A. H. Basto 2-6; lost to L. Chen and E. Punn 4-6; beat D. Kwok and H. L. Huang 6-2.

P. Madar and A. J. Sufian lost to Chen and Basto 1-6; beat Chen and Punn 7-5; lost to Kwok and Huang 2-6.

South China beat Army 5½-3½.

K. I. Chan and H. N. Wong beat Emberger and Duffield 6-1; beat Webb and Denyer 6-1; beat Nelson and Murray 7-5; beat Hsu and K. C. Wan lost to Emberger and Duffield 4-6; drew with Webb and Denyer 6-6; beat Nelson and Murray 6-3.

H. C. Kwok and K. Sung lost to Emberger and Duffield 4-6; beat Webb and Denyer 7-5; lost to Nelson and Murray 3-6.

Biggest Defeat In Years

Though I had expected the Valley team to win, I did not think that they would do it with a margin of 27 shots or that they would be up on all three rinks. It was the biggest thrashing Recreio "A" had had in many years.

With this victory, Craigengower C.C. are set for the championship which they last won in 1936. Already they are one point ahead of Recreio "A" with two matches in hand—a very strong position indeed.

The start of this match gave no indication of its eventual one-sidedness. R. P. Luz, drawn against C. S. Roselle, ran away with a lead of nine shots and as there was very little in it in the other, two rink games, a fairly even tussle seemed likely.

But a complete metamorphosis came over the game when Roselle's rink scored 24 shots without reply from Luz and turned a 0-9 deficit into a 24-9 lead.

U. M. Omar also ran away from "Spuggy" Silva, thanks to steady play by his front men, of whom the younger Omar was especially good.

An Even Fight

ON the third rink, there was an even fight between B. W. Bradbury and Carlos Silva. The latter returned to the team specially for this all-important game and despite his lack of practice, he revealed flashes of his old form although he was not altogether at his best.

The final score on this rink was 24-10, but it might have been much closer. When the last head was played, Bradbury was leading 20-10. Joe Luz sent down two beautiful woods and C. E. Marques added another.

But A. E. Cobles, Bradbury's No. 3, rested on the bench for the shot. Johnny Ribeiro and Carlos Silva both had bad luck in their attempts to take this out, and in the end they had to concede four shots on this head as the result of taking out three second shots one after another!

Chief credit in Craigengower's victory must go to Roselle's rink for their splendid recovery. After a shaky start, all four played well to a man. L. Gadul, promoted for this match, deserves special mention for his great consistency.

U. M. Omar conceded a seven against "Spuggy" Silva when leading 28-11, but the Valley players were in no danger of defeat then. Still, it was the first time in many years that the champion had given away such a count in a League match.

ON the adjoining green, the Police continued their winning streak with a fine victory over the Indians. True, Jack Shepherd's hitherto unbeaten rink bowed to A. R. Dallah's by nine shots, but Wally Mair and Jock Fender saw the side through by beating A. K. Minu and M. R. Abbas respectively.

Shepherd's men were always up against it against Dallah's four, who were playing at the top of their form. The Indian rink were three shots to the good at tea time but a five and six on two heads gave them a substantial lead which they maintained to the end.

Wally Mair was always ahead of Minu, while Fender, after being 16-10 on the 17th head with Abbas, ran away in the last few heads to win by six shots.

In the last head of the day—between Shepherd and Dallah—the Indians were one shot down. Harris drew a lovely wood and Dall sealed the Indians' fate by drawing two more.

A. H. Rumjahn, Dallah's No. 3, who had been playing splendidly throughout the afternoon, failed to alter the position, and Dall was twice narrow, leaving the Police with three shots on this head and victory by four shots in all.

The return of J. Forrest, J. Orem and J. C. Fender to the team has strengthened the Police considerably. All three were fairly steady on Saturday, and a little more practice will probably weld them into a formidable rink as they have E. G. Post playing No. 1.

THE new Kowloon C.C. combinations are working well. They followed up their victory over the Indians the week before by trouncing the Civil Servants on Saturday by two rinks to one, Tommy Madar's being the only one to lose.

"Teddy" Fincher, after breaking his "duck" the previous week, scored another win, this time at the expense of E. W. Simmonds, and N. J. Bebbington continued his good work as skip by beating J. J. MacGowan. M. N. Rakusen, the singles champion, was given adequate support by his men and had a seven-shot win.

AS to be expected, Kowloon B.G.C. "A" had no difficulty against Kowloon Docks and picked up five valuable points.

The "B" team, which visited Recreio "B", however, were beaten by two rinks to one.

F. A. Beckham, skipping a rink in the First Division for the first time, did well against C. M. Silva, who was also piloting a rink for the first time. The K.B.G.C. men won by 22-11, thus giving his side one point.

IN the Second Division, Craigengower C.C. lost valuable ground in the race for championship honours as the result of their 2-0 defeat by Prison Officers' Club at Stanley. It was a bad day for them as even Tommy Lock, who has been doing so well of late, also lost.

Kowloon Tong made amends for their previous week's lapse by taking four points from Kowloon C.C. and are in a sound position.

IN the Third Division, the leading teams won, but while Kowloon B.G.C. scored a clean sweep against Craigengower, the Indians only managed to win on one rink and tie in another, and were somewhat fortunate to win the aggregate points by one shot.

The K.B.G.C. are 2½ points ahead of the Indians from the same number of matches played, and the return game between the two sides will go a long way towards deciding the championship in this division.

RAIN has been the bug-bear of the Open Championships to date. Last Sunday's matches in the Rinks were of course washed out, and the Paira, which are still in the first-round stage, have made very little progress.

Those who have yet to play off their matches should avail themselves of the first dry day to have them played.

Annual F.A. Meeting Approves New Rules Maximum Admission Charges

EXCEPT FOR ALTERATION to the period of time to be allowed returned touring teams before filing a statement of accounts, the important proposals of the F. A. Council, which were submitted to the annual general meeting of members last night, were passed without opposition.

It was also decided that future maximum admission charges to any match would be $2.

Hon. Mr N. L. Smith, President, was in the chair, supported by Hon. Mr. K. Lo, Cmdr. Millet and Mr. W. Pryde (Vice-Presidents).

Reviewing the year, the President said:

The net profit of $1,431.50 is highly satisfactory. It was a matter of regret that owing to the political situation Shanghai was unable to come for the annual inter-port.

The financial results of charity matches have been fully set out in the report and I feel the inter-port season to be proud of the fact that, through the instrumentality of such matches, $20,214.48 has been donated to charities.

New Officers

The following officers were elected. President, Hon. Mr N. L. Smith; Vice-President (Civilian), Mr. W. Pryde; Vice-President (Chinese), Hon. Mr. K. Lo; Secretary, Mr. J. J. MacGowan; Treasurer, Mr. A. Newman; Chairman of Council, Mr. Wong Ka-tsun; Representative of Second and Third Divisions, Mr. C. Gungnam.

Touring Finances

Referring to the rule which required that clubs making tours must submit a financial statement within 14 days of their return, Mr. W. E. Hollands suggested that the period be extended to two months. He said a team on tour generally left the day after the last match and consequently it was impossible to file a financial statement within 14 days as it had to await the returns of that game.

Mr. Mok Hing supported Mr. Hollands, saying a team might have to wait even more than two months. Mr. Lo suggested that the period be extended to 20 days, subject to extension by the Council. This was approved.

Team Strength

Concerning the rule which required clubs to play their full strength, Mr. J. McKelvie observed that the matter was entirely up to the clubs and had nothing to do with the Association. Mr. Mok expressed the view that as only amateur football was played it was up to the players to appear. Mr. Wong Ka-tsun said the rule was followed by amateur clubs in England.

Mr. J. Skinner pointed out that although players were amateurs, gate receipts were taken and therefore it was only fair to the public that a club should be at full strength.

Mr. Lo suggested that the wording be changed in order to give the Council the right to call upon any club for an explanation as to why the full team was not played. The rule, as it stood, he said, placed rather too big a burden on clubs. Mr. Pryde pointed out that the Council would call for an explanation only if they had very good reason.

Mr. W. Glover proposed that the rule, as it stood, be put to the vote. This was agreed to.

Cmdr. Millet pointed out the position of the Navy, saying it was sometimes very difficult for them to play a full team and that under the rule they would have to give an explanation. He was assured by the President that no explanation would be called for in their case.

Maximum Admission Fee

In connection with the rule fixing the maximum charge for admission at $1, Mr. Skinner suggested that this be

Programme For Inter-Departmental Gala To-morrow

The Government Inter-Departmental Swimming Gala, which was postponed from last Monday, will be held to-morrow night in the European Y.M.C.A. Swimming pool, with post entries, commencing at 8 p.m.

Commodore (Captain) A. C. Collinson, R.N., will be the Referee and other distinguished guests who are expected to be present are: Mr. E. Major-General A. E. Gressett, Sir Athol MacGregor and Lady MacGregor and the Commissioner of Prisons.

The total receipts are in aid of the South China Morning Post Bomber Fund and admission is by ticket only, at $1.50 each.

Gala Postponed

The swimming gala scheduled for the Chinese Bathing Club last night to select a team to meet Victoria Recreation Club was postponed to July 13 at 3 p.m.

Another gala will be held on July 19 at 7 p.m.

raised to $2. He said a cheaper price would attract too big a crowd with resultant damage to the stands.

The suggestion was opposed by Capt. R. E. Guest, who said the public should not be exploited.

At the moment, there was no fixed maximum and any club could charge whatever it liked for a good reason for the clubs concerned. They were the best judges for the happy medium.

Capt. Guest proposed that the maximum charge be fixed at $2 and service-charge for the clubs concerned.

Mr. Skinner said it would be better to leave the question of charging servicemen to the clubs because they had always given them a fair deal. After Mr. Pryde had spoken in similar vein, Capt. Guest withdrew his proposal, and the rule was passed with the maximum charge fixed at $2 instead of $1.

The rule relating to the maximum charge for admission to Shield matches was also amended to $2 instead of $1.

Mr. McKelvie raised the question of the use of grounds and appealed to the clubs to stop bargaining for terms for their use.

Cycle Time Trial Arranged By Chinese "Y"

A bicycle time-trial, open to the Colony and under the auspices of the Chinese Y.M.C.A., was held at Tsun Wan yesterday.

Thirty-seven competitors were sent away at intervals of one minute and the trial was over an hour before the last cyclist left.

Miss Hung Shu-chu, the first competitor to be sent away, at 0.34 a.m., was the second to complete the course. Her time was 2 hrs 18 mins 55 sec, but this time is subject to a final check.

A. J. S. Sandberg, of La Salle College, who was second off the list, was the first to return and he took 39 mins 21 sec to cover the 25 miles course.

Results

The first 15 competitors to finish, with their starting and finishing times given in brackets, were: Miss Hung Shu-chu (0.34/11.52.55); A. J. S. Sandberg (0.36/11.52.55); J. B. Plans have been made to send a team of professionals round the country to entertain troops, instruct in schools and revive the clubs during the summer.

The scheme, like the similar scheme adopted by the amateurs to tour the country with exhibitions, was evolved by the sports committee of the British Red Cross, and not by the governing body of the game.

L.T.A. Contribution

IT is understood, however, that the Lawn Tennis Association, which is the governing body, will contribute toward the expenses.

Stanley Rous, Football Association secretary, who has done so much for other sports as honorary secretary of the Red Cross committee is making this attempt to revive interest in tennis.

A regular visitor to Wimbledon in peace-time, he always occupied a seat in the committee box reserved for distinguished visitors on the big days of championship meetings. He was by Pilot-Officer Dan MacKell, the Wimbledon coach, who has arranged to visit a school at Weston-super-Mare, near Bristol, the team of professionals will go anywhere—providing they receive a donation for the Red Cross Sports Fund.

Exhibition Matches

EXHIBITION matches by Wimbledon players, including Roy Menzies, Jean Nicoll, Peggy Vivian, Billie Yorke, Margaret Lamb, Joan Ingram, Freda Hamerley and Gem Honning, have been arranged as part of the plan.

Country secretaries have been invited to organise junior championships, the winners to play in a Junior Tournament at a centre to be arranged later.

BARMAIDS FAIL TO GET EXEMPTION

Alcohol As A Pain-Killer

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—It is just as necessary to keep British beer glasses filled as to fill the nation's shells, pub owners contended to-day in attempting to gain exemption from the Ministry of Labour industrial call-up for their barmaids.

"The amenities provided at licensed houses do more to keep the people cheerful and confident than anything else," E. Sharp, Chairman of the North-west London Licensed Victuallers Association, declared. "The young women who wait behind the bars and at the lunch tables are doing real national service. They are bright and efficient in their attendance upon the public."

The Ministry of Labour, however, refused to see it that way. A spokesman commented: "Preserving cheerfulness is a peach of an argument—but somebody might ask whether old barmaids cannot fill the role just as cheerfully."

Analgesic Boost

The British medical journal "Lancet" gave an analgesic boost to the cup-of-cheers, confirming that as a pain-killer, ethyl alcohol has a greater effect than aspirin.

"This remarkable advantage of alcohol over aspirin... is worthy of note by pharmacologists, who, in the laboratory at any rate, have scarcely done justice to the virtues of a double whisky," the journal declared.

"The Lancet" added, however, that "aspirin may reasonably be regarded as the best universal analgesic that has yet been evolved."

Arthur Wheatland of Brondesbury came up with a new one at the Clerkenwell police court the other day after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. He explained to the judge that a bartender gave him Irish whiskey instead of Scotch whiskey and that the difference in strengths threw him. His fine amounted to a little more than £12.

Italian Officers Executed

ITALIAN officers, court-martialed for inefficiency in the Albanian campaign, were executed by firing squads. This was learned from statements of Italian prisoners.

Some of the officers were said to have inflicted wounds on themselves so that they could be invalided home.

Trawlers' Golden Harvest

Demand For Fish Alters Value Of Catch

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—£19,000 for a single catch was realised by an Icelandic trawler skipper who unloaded a record 36,000 stone of fish at a British port recently.

A golden harvest has fallen to "Trawltown," a fishing port "somewhere in England" and skippers and mates may earn more than Cabinet ministers.

Deck hands, the lowest paid members of a trawler's crew, are averaging £10 to £12 "all found" for a ten days' trip. Sometimes they make between £30 and £40.

A trawler's mate in a court case recently was said to be earning £5 a day. Skippers and mates who do not make £20 a week are "not trying," as one fisherman put it.

The reason for this golden harvest is not that wages have increased, but that the demand for fish has enormously altered the value of their shares in the catch.

Dutch, Belgian, French, Danish, Norwegian and Iceland fishermen are all sharing in the golden harvest.

Wristlet Radio Set Tested

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—A wristlet radio broadcasting set to help rescuers to locate people trapped beneath wreckage is being tested by the Home Office in London.

Anyone wearing the instrument, which weighs six ounces and is three inches in diameter, can send out oscillations on a fixed wavelength by slight pressure on a celluloid strip.

The oscillations can be picked up on an ordinary portable radio set, and rescuers equipped with a direction coil will be able to locate the trapped person.

The radio wrist watch has been devised by a lieutenant in the Polish Army and I. Solar, an electrical engineer, of Dunfermline, Scotland.

"Lost Colony" of 2,000 U.S. Citizens in Britain

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—Demands for an American ship to sail to Britain and repatriate more than 2,000 persons of a "Lost Colony" of stranded United States citizens have been forwarded to Washington.

Lawrence L. Tweedy, President of the American Chamber of Commerce in London and head of the American Relief Society, said he and other United States businessmen have urged Washington officials to "let down the bars of the Neutrality Act" and provide a ship with which to return the "Lost Colony" home.

Among the more than 2,000 persons remaining in wartime Britain, Tweedy said, are 60 destitute American families hard hit by closing down of their businesses because of the war. The majority of the United States citizens want to return to America for the duration. Some of them are businessmen and their families who were unable to evacuate on the last United States ships to leave the country.

Many Applications

Tweedy said that every week the American Relief Society is dealing with new applications for help. Weekly payments are being made in cases of genuine hardship.

Tie-up of all transport facilities, difficulties of war travel of its nationals on belligerent ships have prevented these people from leaving Britain. Virtually the only way they could reach America would be through Lisbon—but thousands of applications are already on file for transportation to that city and even then Americans might find it illegal to attempt to reach Portugal by boat.

Waive Neutrality Act

"The Embassy in London has had more than 1,500 applications for facilities to return to America. The only way out is for Washington to allow an American ship to sail and to waive the Neutrality Act temporarily for this to be done."

Tweedy added that the United States government had, in fact, decided to do this some time ago if the German government would declare the ship safe from attack. This agreement was not reached between the governments and the American government dropped the proposal.

Smuggling On Eire Borders

BELFAST, July 8 (UP).—South of the border, partner, there's some rustling going on and Irish officials are brushing up on western American police methods to catch "boudoir smugglers" operating between the Eire and Ulster borders.

Working on the theory that beauty is above the law, this gang of smugglers are running beauty aids from unrationed Eire northward into Ulster. It is believed that the smugglers include a large group of women.

Police already have seized large quantities of lipsticks, nail files, and cigarette lighters as well as more than 1,000 powder puffs, hundreds of bottles of perfume, 3,245 hairnets, 900 combs, 63 dozen handkerchiefs, 9,000 pairs of long bootlaces, and 4,000 pairs of shoe laces.

Evidence that the group's activities are spreading was seen in the seizure of crates of chocolate, 17 dozen pocket knives, some onions and 3,000 clothes pins.

This contraband was seized in the Scotstown area on the Tyrone border. One load of contraband was discovered in a truck carrying crates of chickens. Police of Northern and Southern Ireland are cooperating in an effort to halt the traffic.

"Blitz" Quitter Condemned

Cardiff City Fathers Roused To Wrath

CARDIFF, July 8 (UP).—The Cardiff City Council, proclaiming the use of the words "guts" and "My God" ungentlemanly, has authorized printing of 10,000 copies of a poem designed to halt the migrations of "blitz-quitters" who nightly leave the city in their cars for places of greater safety.

The "blitz-quitter" was roundly condemned by the city fathers at a recent council meeting. He was described as the man who packs hot water bottles, blankets and pillows into his car, then drives to country districts to spend the night. Authorities said that by leaving his home unguarded, the "blitz-quitter" endangered his neighborhood by not being on hand in the event of raiders setting his house afire.

Consequently, the city council studied the following poem attacking the "blitz-quitters."

To those who pack and run away,
And have not got the guts to stay,
If all were cowards, such as you,
My God, what would poor old England do?

Words Substituted

Council-member Sir Herbert Hiles enthusiastically approved of the poem as written. But other members disagreed. "Language of the gutter," they said. "Doggerel, not quite the thing for an official publication."

However, most of the council members agreed with Sir Herbert's statement that "I would like the chance of sticking to on, certain cars that leave the city."

The opposition gained two points before the council authorized the poem's publication at city expense. It was agreed that the verse, as officially printed, would substitute the word "pluck" for "guts"—and that the council would strike out the words "My God" and replace them with "then."

Henpecked Husbands Gather

HALIFAX, Yorks, July 8 (UP).—Members of the Ancient Order of Henpecked Husbands have held their annual general meeting again and enjoyed their one day off in the year from their wives.

None of them revealed the secret meeting place. They were afraid their wives might call.

Every year, in spring or early summer, the henpecked husbands of Great Britain meet somewhere in the lonely fastnesses of the Yorkshire-Lancashire moors between Halifax and Rochdale.

They discuss new ways of combating petticoat influence in their homes. All of them hope they will never again have to attend the meeting of the ancient order.

Few Resignations

But there are few resignations. This year, there was a larger attendance than usual. More husbands managed to dodge their wives. They told them that they were going fire-watching, spending the day hunting cigarettes or razor-blades or were going to see a man about the income-tax.

German Pilots Rouge Cheeks

Called "Moral Deviates"

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—Some of the Luftwaffe pilots shot down in raids over Britain have waved hair and enamelled finger-nails. Some of them rouge their cheeks and paint their lips. Medical scientists call them "moral deviates."

German airmen in British prisoners-of-war camps who use rouge and face-cream have been found by Sir James Purves-Stewart, the famous neurologist.

Every one of them wore the Iron Cross.

Sir James says: "This particular form of perversion abounds all over Germany. And it is encouraged. 'People of this temperament' are subject to severe emotional outbursts. Then, they become ruthless and savage—which, well accords with some of the examples of German air war we have had here."

"All of these men seem to belong to the officer class. The N.C.O.'s and the men seem to be quite decent."

than two aircraft into the air for continuous patrol during daylight. "Our tanks have not done so well against the Germans. There are not enough and they are too slow. In Greece seventy to eighty per cent of our tanks broke down before they saw the enemy."

Views Ventilated

"Reuter" says that the debate provided an occasion for those who are not satisfied that the country is achieving the maximum possible output to ventilate their views. The Conservative member, Lieutenant Brabber, who was with the Fleet Air Arm at Crete, complained of the lack of armaments and planes, and the weakness of the troops while Lieutenant Commander Hopkinson asserted that none of the planes produced by Lord Beaverbrook's drive participated in the Battle of Britain.

He was assailed by Labour members when he described the Labour Minister, Mr. Ernest Bevin, as an "unskilled labourer."

Munitions Minister

The Labourite, Mr. G. M. Garro-Jones, urged the appointment of a Minister of Munitions with a seat in the Cabinet to "end the jostling for men and materials." He contended that the production of tanks was being delayed by countless modifications, and while expressing satisfaction with British aircraft production, declared that too many types were being sent from America, resulting in hundreds lying idle and unpacked in warehouses because necessary auxiliary equipment was not available.

The Conservative member, Mr. Oscar Guest, declared that it was very difficult for manufacturers to obtain clear-cut quick decisions from Government departments.

Tremendous Output

The Liberal member, Mr. Geoffrey Le M. Mander, said that the enemy could draw no possible consolation from the criticisms that there had been a tremendous output of war equipment of all kinds. Mr. Mander continued that what they urged, however, was a still greater output. He complained of idleness in factories due to change-over in types. Workers resented being paid for playing darts which was all that they had to do in many cases.

The Labour member, Mr. D. J. K. Quibell, said that it was a scandal that at a factory which made the first tanks in Britain, only a quarter of the employees were now engaged on war production. Lieutenant Brabber declared that in the Middle East, Crete, Libya and Syria, there was an almost chronic lack of the most important materials of war.

A. A. Guns

"We are still grievously short of anti-aircraft guns and at Maleme there was a great shortage of multiple half-inch machine-guns for use against low-flying aircraft."

Lieut. Brabber continued: "Our tanks did well against the Italians but not so well against the Germans because there were not enough of them and they were too slow. "If we could produce 20,000 aircraft, we could win the war," he declared.

Lieut. Commander Hopkinson urged competitive tenders for design and revision of the engine system as existing that at present it is paid to take 80,000 man-hours to produce an aircraft which could be produced in 20,000 man-hours. He charged Mr. Ernest Bevin with incompetence in the manner in which labour is being handled.

LOUIS DENIES CRUELTY

CHICAGO, July 9 (Reuter).—Answering a divorce suit filed in the Circuit Court, Joe Louis, the heavy-weight boxing champion, denied that he had ever struck his wife.

Asking dismissal of the suit, he completely denied the charges of cruelty and denied that he had treated her unkindly and unaffectionately and conducted herself towards him as a true and virtuous wife as the plaintiff claimed.

CAPE TOWN, July 9 (Reuter).—Far-reaching proposals for transferring Table Bay Harbour from its peacetime footing routine to a wartime footing and thereby speeding up British shipping will shortly be put before the Minister of Railway by a strong deputation of Cape Town shipping and commercial leaders. SOLDIER DIES FROM INJURIES

Lance Corporal William C. Smith of the Royal Scots, who was involved in an accident on Tuesday, died at the Kowloon Hospital at 2 a.m. to-day. The funeral will take place at the Colonial Cemetery at 4 p.m. to-day.

The deceased was one of three members of the Royal Scots who were injured when a Bren-gun carrier, managed by Smith, skidded and rolled down a 70-ft embankment at Castle Peak. The other two, Privates Higgins and McKay received only superficial injuries, having been thrown from the vehicle. Smith sustained fractures of both legs and head injuries and lost a large amount of blood before he was taken to hospital.

Private W. Embleton, who was driving a carrier behind, promptly rushed to the aid of the injured man and took them to hospital. Smith was given a blood transfusion in hospital but his condition took a turn for the worse yesterday.

Only 24 years of age Smith was a native of London, and is survived by his parents and brothers and sisters. He has no relatives in Hongkong. He was with the Royal Scots for over seven years.

"unpleasant surprises" in store for them has led the High Command of the German forces to maintain considerable forces in the west, according to the German radio.

Commenting on to-day's High Command communiqué, the announcer declared that the enemy is not idle on this sector of the front. This is proved by his "almost daily attempts" to raid the Channel coast. This is further proved by his nightly attacks on northwest Germany.

The central target is the "unhappy" town of Munster and "targets of military and industrial importance."

The commentator, after commiserating with citizens who might after night have lost not only sleep but often belongings and even their lives, added, "It is just as impossible to eliminate these attacks as it is impossible to eliminate artillery fire on the front."

Bethune Attacked

LONDON, July 9 (Reuter).—This afternoon heavy bombers of the R.A.F., escorted by fighters, attacked the power station near Bethune, states the Air Ministry. The target was hit by heavy bombs. During the operations, 11 enemy fighters were destroyed, one by a bomber and ten by the escort. Seven of our fighters are missing.

Vichy Admits Syria Defeat

General Dentz's request for an armistice, therefore, has caused little surprise here where it is pointed out that from the military viewpoint, Vichy's troops are in a desperate position.

The capture of Damour would be a crippling blow because elsewhere in Syria the position of the Vichy troops is equally serious. British Imperial troops are also threatening the remaining city of Aleppo, advancing parallel to the Istanbul-Aleppo-Baghdad railway from the southeast and east.

At the same time, Allied columns are steadily advancing at Nebek and Furqus to threaten the vital road and rail junction of Homs from the south and east.

Furthermore, Vichy troops in Jezze are now in imminent danger of being isolated as the result of an Allied push up the coast.

Authoritative quarters consider that the recent rumours of strong Vichy reinforcements reaching Syria are largely only propaganda intended to bolster up the morale of the troops and impress the local population. Pending the agreement of armistice terms, it is emphasised here that hostilities will continue actively.

No Animosity

LONDON, July 9 (Reuter).—Mr. Alfred Duff-Cooper, Minister of Information, speaking in London to-day, said that Britain had no feeling of hostility or enmity against the Frenchmen who obeyed the orders of the Vichy Government. "We only hope that this unfortunate hostility will be forgotten as soon as possible."

SOVIETS CLAIM DESTRUCTION OF RUMANIAN OIL CENTRES Port of Constanza "Ceases To Exist"

Special to the "Telegraph"

NEW YORK, July 9 (UP).—ACCORDING TO THE NATIONAL BROADCASTING COMPANY, THE MOSCOW RADIO TO-DAY ASSERTED THAT THE RUSSIAN AIR FORCE HAD "COMPLETELY DESTROYED ENEMY OIL CENTRES IN RUMANIA." DAMAGE WAS PARTICULARLY HEAVY AT PLOESTI, ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL RUMANIAN OIL FIELDS.

THE REPORT ADDED THAT THE RUMANIAN BLACK SEA PORT OF CONSTANZA HAS "CEASED TO EXIST" AS A RESULT OF CONTINUAL BOMBARDMENT BY THE RUSSIAN FLEET AND AERIAL ATTACKS.

MOSCOW COMMUNIQUE

LONDON, July 9 (Reuter).—A war communique issued by the Soviet Information Board and broadcast by the Moscow radio, states that throughout the day of July 9 fierce fighting was continued against large enemy tank and mechanised units trying to break through in Ostrov, Polotsk and Novograd-Volinsk directions.

"In the Ostrov sector our forces are engaged in a stubborn battle holding back the advance of superior enemy forces. In the direction of Polotsk, the enemy renewed his offensive this morning. Our troops met his offensive with deadly artillery and machinegun fire and with decisive counterattacks.

HEAVY ENEMY LOSSES

"Fighting still continues, and the enemy is suffering heavy losses.

"In the direction of Lepel, our troops are making successful counter-thrusts against the enemy. In the Novograd-Volinsk area there was fierce fighting throughout the day between our troops and large enemy mechanised forces.

"In other directions, our troops are fighting stubbornly, maintaining their positions.

"Our aircraft operated against enemy mechanised units and destroyed enemy aircraft on the ground. Our aircraft bombed Constanza, a port, and trade ports in Tulcea and Sulina, and the oil fields of Ploesti.

"During the raid on Constanza, nine of our bombers were met by 11 enemy aircraft. In the ensuing air battle our aircraft brought down seven enemy machines with the loss of one of ours."

Ostrov Claimed By Nazis
LONDON, July 9 (Reuter).—The German official news agency says that German troops have occupied Ostrov on the main road to Leningrad which is 200 miles to the northeast.

The town was captured after attempts by Soviet troops to take up new defence positions on the Latvian front," adds the agency.
In Estonia, says the agency, Nazi troops have captured the port of Pernau and the town of Fellin, midway between Pernau and Dorpat.

Struggle On Pruth
VICHY, July 9 (Reuter).—A communique issued to-day by the Hungarian High Command, according to a Budapest dispatch to the Vichy news agency, states: "Our fast troops near the River Debrecz were engaged in combat with the enemy for the crossing of the River. Our cyclist group by forced march and our engineers by their unceasing work have contributed in no small measure to the successes."
The Debrecz is a tributary of the Danube, which it joins just north of Chotly.

LONDON, July 9 (Reuter).—The battle of the eastern front has developed into the Battle of the Three Rivers—Dvina, Dnieper and Dniester.

Salla Said Occupied
BUDAPEST, July 9 (Reuter).—An advance on the eastern frontier to a depth of five to 10 kilometres is claimed by the Finns in a Finnish communique quoted to-day by the Budapest wireless.

The communique adds that "our troops have occupied a few points beyond the southern frontier and have repulsed the enemy. Our air force carried out reconnaissance activity and dropped bombs."
Hungarian troops have reached the river Pruth and are fighting to force a crossing, states an official Hungarian communique.

Salla Occupied
BERLIN, July 9 (UP).—According to the official news agency, German troops on the Finnish front, after heavy fighting, have occupied the strongly fortified town of Salla.

Unceasing Raids On Vital Nazi Industries

LONDON, July 9 (Reuter).—Thirteen enemy aircraft were destroyed during to-day's offensive operations by the R.A.F. 12 by fighters and one by a bomber.

Eight British fighters are missing, the pilot of one being safe.

CHUNGKING & LONDON

Amity Emphasised

LONDON, July 9 (Reuter).—Invited in the House of Commons to-day by the Labour member, Mr. Philip Noel-Baker, to make a statement on the relations between the Government and Chungking in view of the recent Axis recognition of Nanking, Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, replied that this development did not make any difference to the Government's Far Eastern policy which was based on recognition of Chungking as the legitimate national Chinese Government.

On July 7, the Chinese entered the fifth year of their indomitable resistance. "I am happy to repeat the assurance I recently gave here that the British Government will continue to do what it can to help China to maintain her independence" (Cheers).

Message From M.P.s.

Mr. Eden indicated his assent when Mr. Noel-Baker expressed the hope that he would transmit that message to the Chinese Government with an assurance that it was warmly supported by all Parties in the House.

Far East Shipping Questions In House

LONDON, July 9 (Reuter).—Replying to Sir John Wardlaw Milne, Mr. Anthony Eden, in the House of Commons to-day, said that there had been some shortage of shipping in Far Eastern waters, resulting in difficulties for the Shanghai Power Company maintaining coal stocks.

However, he understood that the Company had succeeded in chartering a number of neutral vessels and were negotiating for others.

Mr Willkie Urges U.S. Bases In N. Ireland

Special to the "Telegraph"

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP).—After a conference with President Roosevelt to-day, Mr. Willkie announced that he was in favour of the establishment of American bases in Northern Ireland.

The President and Mr. Willkie had a luncheon conference which lasted an hour and fifteen minutes, during which time they reviewed the international situation, particularly with regard to Iceland and the Russo-German war.

Mr. Willkie later denied that there was any discussion about the possibility of him being "drafted" into a Federal job.

Effective Aid Needed

WASHINGTON, July 9 (Reuter).—Mr. Wendell Willkie told the Press,

One section of a large bomber force which attacked Germany's industrial resources last night went to Halle and Leuna, near Leipzig, 550 miles from London, states the Air Ministry.

At Leuna, they bombed the synthetic oil plant of the IG Farbenindustrie, one of the principal factories on which depend Germany's attempts to secure economic self-sufficiency.

At great expense of coal and labour, this plant normally produces 400,000 metric tons of oil a year. The British bombers made the long flight under a bright moon and were there and back within the short hours of the summer night.

Railway Blasted

A very heavy attack was made on the great railway system at Hamm. The yard was torn by explosions of many heavy bombs and the railway buildings also suffered. The large fires started could be seen burning fiercely many miles on the way home.

One British bomber which attacked Hamm met an enemy fighter. The rear-gunner drove it off and saw flames coming from it.

Muenster Again

Muenster was attacked for the fourth night in succession. One pilot described a huge fire in the town surrounded by many scattered outbreaks.

Railway lines were hit and at aerodromes close to the main railway stations large sheds burned fiercely and all the walls caved in.

Bielefeld and Essen were also attacked.

Tanks & Aircraft Production

Hotly Criticised In House Of Commons

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

LONDON, July 9 (UP).—In the House of Commons to-day the Government was sharply criticised on its war production, notably in tanks and aeroplanes, coupled with charges of incompetence and mismanagement.

Lieutenant-Commander Hopkinson, speaking as a "member of the Fleet Air Arm and Aircraft Production," charged that aeroplane production was "chaos from top to bottom."

Mr. Garro-Jones charged that a few weeks ago hundreds of American planes were lying in warehouses still unpacked "because those who placed orders on behalf of the Air Ministry did not order the necessary auxiliary equipment."

Wants Higher Control

He claimed that the Air Ministry is now ordering 30 types of American aircraft, but "those ordering them had forgotten to ensure supplies and maintenance equipment." As a result, one type of aircraft alone is complete and ready for operation, and the others are forced to lie in the warehouses.

Mr. Garro-Jones urged the appointment of a higher control to consolidate the purchases of the Ministries of Aircraft Production and Supply, and the Admiralty.

Lieutenant Brabber in his maiden speech, and wearing the uniform of the Fleet Air Arm, charged that in "Greece, Libya, Crete and Syria

Smith sustained fractures of both legs and head injuries and lost a large amount of blood before he was taken to hospital.

Private W. Embleton, who was driving a carrier behind, promptly rushed to the aid of the injured men and took them to hospital. Smith was given a blood transfusion in hospital but his condition took a turn for the worse yesterday.

Only 24 years of age Smith was a native of London, and is survived by his parents and brothers and sisters. He has no relatives in Hongkong. He was with the Royal Scots for over seven years.

British Forces Will Remain in Iceland

LONDON, July 9 (British Wireless).—Replying to a question in the House of Commons to-day relating to the position in Iceland, the Prime Minister said that the military occupation of Iceland by U.S. forces was one of the most important things that had happened since the war began.

The step had been undertaken by the U.S.A. in pursuance of the purely American policy of protecting the Western Hemisphere from the Nazi menace.

"I understand that it is the view of the American technical authorities," he continued, "that modern conditions of war, especially air war, require forestalling action, in this case especially in order to prevent the acquisition by Hitler of a jumping-off ground from which it will be possible, bound by bound, to come to close quarters with the American continent."

"It is not for me to comment on the American views although I may say that they are fairly obvious to anyone who takes sufficient interest to understand what is going on."

In Harmony With Britain

Mr. Churchill recalled that with the assent of the Icelandic people, Britain had for some time maintained a strong garrison on the island and he continued, "This measure of American aid is in full harmony with the British position."

Peru-Ecuador Clash: Reconciliation Moves

WASHINGTON, July 9 (Reuter).—The United States, Argentina and Brazil have asked Peru and Ecuador to establish a No Man's Land on both sides of a line known as the Status Quo line in the territory disputed by the two nations.

Mr Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State, at a press conference to-day announced that after the envoys of the three nations had made the foregoing recommendation to Peru and Ecuador, the three governments also informed the governments of all the other American republics and asked them to give their support towards ending the conflict.

Under the proposals, the governments of Peru and Ecuador would withdraw their military forces 15 kilometres from each side of the "Status Quo Line," establishing a neutral zone 30 kilometres in depth between now and an armistice.

Both governments are requested to prevent their planes from passing over the neutral zone.

Pan-American Efforts

WASHINGTON, July 9 (Reuter).—Mr Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State, informed journalists that the governments of Argentina, Brazil and United States had sent a circular telegram to their representatives in all other American republics, instructing them to seek interviews with the Foreign Ministers to which they are accredited, and to suggest that a joint effort be made by all American nations to use their influence and aid to bring about a solution of the Ecuador-Peru controversy.

They further were instructed to express the hope that all American governments would support the proposal made by the governments of Argentina, Brazil and the United States.

Mr Welles made clear that this measure was purely temporary.

Fighting Ceases

QUITO, July 9 (UP).—It is officially announced that the fighting between Peruvian and Ecuadorian troops in the border dispute has ceased, but each country has accused the other of starting the trouble.

BRITISH LOSSES IN SYRIA

LONDON, July 9 (British Wireless).—Replying to a question in the House of Commons to-day asking for a statement on the position in Syria, the Prime Minister said: "I need hardly say how very glad H.M. Government will be to see an end brought to this distressing conflict in which nearly 2,500 British, Australian and Indian soldiers, who volunteered or joined the Army in order to defend France, have fallen, killed or wounded, under French bullets as the result of the lamentable confusion which the affairs of so many good people in so many parts of the world have been thrown by the victories of Hitler's army."

"Therefore, we welcome these negotiations and trust that they may result in a speedy conclusion. "Regarding any formal arrangements being made, military operations must, of course, continue without abatement."

German Officials Warned

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP).—Official circles to-day stated that the ousted German and Italian Consular employees who choose to return to their homelands on ships other than those provided by the United States "travel at their own risk." The comment followed a report that Captain Welde, Consul-General at San Francisco, and six members of his staff intend to leave for Germany next Sunday on a Japanese liner.

Ushirogu Leaves Canton Post

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"—TAIHOKE, July 9 (Domel).—Lieut-General Jun Ushirogu, former Supreme Commander of the Japanese Expeditionary Force to South China, who has been appointed Chief of the General Staff of the Japanese Expeditionary Forces to China, arrived here at noon to-day from Canton by plane.

Partitioning Of Yugo-Slavia

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"—ROME, July 9 (UP).—An official communiqué issued to-day states that Italy and Germany yesterday signed an accord as a result of the partitioning of Yugo-Slavia. The new Italo-German frontier will run from Italy to the Yugo-Slav border from Salskra, from which point it will run eastwards to a point where the Italo-Croatian borders meet.

Round The Cape Shipping Facilities

CAPE TOWN, July 9 (Reuter).—Far-reaching proposals for transferring Table Bay Harbour from its peacetime footing routine to a wartime footing and thereby speeding up British shipping will shortly be put before the Minister of Railway by a strong deputation of Cape Town shipping and commercial leaders. It is proposed to institute a 24-hours day and a seven-day week service.

Tighten Up Your Overcalls!

A LIGHT opening bid is not nearly so dangerous as a questionable overcall. At match-point duplicate, particularly in third-hand blunder, it is up to take all sorts of liberties, opening on as little as 1½ honour-tricks. This does not mean, however, that fourth hand can overcall with impunity. The opener's partner, though he passed originally, is still to be reckoned with. Note to-day's hand.

The bidding:
 West North East South
 Pass Pass Pass Pass
 Dbl. Pass Pass Pass

Perhaps it is superfluous to point out that East's diamond bid was more psychic than honest. South's overcall, vulnerable, had no nibb whatsoever; it was just a poor bid. As to East's leave-in of the penalty double, either his courage or his optimism was very high. It must be admitted, however, that he would have had to look hard for a safe takeout.

After West had opened the diamond ace and seen dummy, a diamond continuation seemed unattractive, particularly since East

FOR FIVE YEARS THE EMPRESS OF ETHIOPIA NEVER SMILED.

Gracious and gentle, never abandoning faith in her country's ultimate liberation, she has had the agony of her people under Mussolini's rule always present to her mind.

When she went to London from her home in Bath after the great news of Ethiopian successes and the falling fortunes of the Fascist invaders, one would scarcely have recognised her. One saw her now as she was in her own capital—vivacious, strong, with sparkling eyes and ready smiles, the varied expressions of her eager thoughts succeeding rapidly—a very gallant lady.

In her exiled home in Bath she has hoped and planned for the return to Ethiopia all these five years.

SHE NEVER SMILED FOR FIVE YEARS

By SYLVIA PANKHURST

Sylvia Pankhurst, former Suffragist leader and now active worker for the cause of Abyssinian freedom, has just interviewed the Empress of Abyssinia. In this interview the Empress disclosed for the first time her plans to return home. Sylvia Pankhurst has been an intimate friend of the Empress for five years, and is the editor of "New Times and Ethiopia News."

RAS DESTA'S DAUGHTER AND SONS, with the Empress's youngest boy, are also at school, popular with their companions there and notable in their sports. Their home life is simple and sensible, much like that of English children, and their English governess proudly told me of their efficient wartime help in "digging for victory" in the big garden, which supplies all the household needs in fruit and vegetables.

The Empress, like the Emperor, regards the cause of Ethiopia as part of the cause of world freedom against the Axis, and they have both given many valuable and rare Ethiopian treasures to the British Red Cross.

The Crown Prince studied with a tutor, and afterwards at Liverpool University; the Duke of Harrar at Wellington College; the Princess Tsahai, following her own ardent desire, became a nurse at the Children's Hospital, Great Ormond Street, and, after qualifying as a State Registered nurse, went to Guy's for further experience.

GALLANT CHIEF

EVEN THE ELDER DAUGHTER of the Empress, the widowed Princess Tsahai, has been working to equip herself for future responsibilities. She is the widow of Ras Desta, who continued to fight the Italians among the forests of Sidamo for two years after the Emperor had started on his historic mission to Europe, which has resulted in Ethiopia's alliance with Britain to fight the Axis, and his triumphant return to his country.

Ras Desta was finally captured by the soldiers of Mussolini, and instead of receiving the honours due to a prisoner of war, was shot and decapitated, his head being carried round as a sign of Italian vengeance. The murder of this magnificent son-in-law, who was an ardent co-operator in the great social reforms of the Emperor and Empress, and a most able and generous man, is one of the deep sorrows which have fallen upon the Imperial family and the people of Ethiopia.

MUCH TO BE DONE

"And when I am home again," she said with radiant happiness, "how much I shall have to do! My school for girls—they have made a barracks of it; but it will be reopened as soon as I return."

The Mennen Lyceum of which she spoke the first Ethiopian high school for girls, was a cherished work of the Empress. She wanted to start it when the Emperor was regent and the Empress Zauditu was on the throne. The Empress Zauditu, daughter of the Emperor Menelik II, occupied the throne with the Emperor Haile Selassie, then Ras Makonnen, as Regent. But, steeped in the old traditions, Zauditu considered such innovations unnecessary. She thought the old style schools quite sufficient.

When Empress Mennen came to the throne the high school was her first project. A distinguished Frenchwoman was selected as headmistress, and most of her assistants were French or British. The curriculum was the same as that of a good boys' grammar school, with gymnastics and sports, music, painting, and also domestic science. Modern languages were a strong point. The school was an instant success. It started with 100 boarders, and many more day pupils. The little dark girls in their "gym" tunics vaulted and leapt and climbed with all the vim and go of British or American girls.

"The child marriage is the worst of African customs," the Empress told me. "My advice has been: keep your girls at school and do not let them marry till they are 18 at the very earliest."

HOSPITAL WORK

THE EMPRESS was active in the work of the hospitals especially that for maternity, the mothers' and babies' welfare centres, and clinics which she helped to found in Ethiopia.

When all the progressive work in which she took so zealous a share was broken off short by Mussolini's outrageous and unprovoked aggression the Empress Mennen showed her courage and her quality. She called together the women of the capital, and urged them to join in patriotic effort first, of which she herself was president, undertook to assist the provisioning of the army.

Under its auspices hundreds of women of all ranks met at the palace daily, seasoning meat with salt and pepper and other condiments, and drying it in the hot African sun. According to Ethiopian custom, they baked a sort of hard bread of many nourishing ingredients mixed with butter and made into small cakes, sometimes no larger than a bean and so light that a soldier could carry on his back, together with his other equipment, sufficient to feed him for a month with only water in addition. Some of this bread was ground into powder and put in sacks, to be eaten dry, or mixed with water, and cooked in various ways.

Under the presidency of the Princess Tsahai, another organisation of women, made gas masks which covered the face and which were coloured dark brown, not to show out to the enemy. They were beautifully made. The European doctors praised the skillful work, but the deadly yperite which the Italians sprayed from their planes on men, women, and children, flocks and crops, was used on too large a scale, and was of too destructive a character, for their amateur gas masks to cope with it. The yperite burnt the clothes, the hair, the very skin; it left only a painful cavity where once were eyes.

HIGH HOPES

ALL THAT THE EMPRESS SAW AS she visited gas sufferers in the hospitals. Such sad memories will never leave her, but to-day hope and impatience for the great return overwhelm all other feelings.

"My plans? To return home; to open again the schools and the hospitals, which the invaders have diverted to other uses; to continue my work which was only beginning; to open other high schools for the girls in all the towns; to wipe out illiteracy, to establish efficient care of maternity and infancy, on the lines we had begun in the capital, throughout the country."

The Italian occupation will have left behind many sad problems, with which the Empress and her people will have to cope; women widowed, children orphaned, families scattered, property destroyed. Farms have been laid waste, flocks and herds wantonly slaughtered; a great rebuilding will be required. The Empress will take a capable and courageous share in the work of reconstruction.

In expressing her great joy at the prospect of going home, the Empress gave her thanks to all the friends in Britain, Europe, and the United States who have helped to defend the cause of Ethiopia and justice. Her faith in the triumph of justice throughout the world is firm and bright.

SENSELESS ACTION

THE repeated Japanese bombing attacks on Chungking have lately been of increasing viciousness, and though the civilian population has not suffered more than usual, the so-called "safe" zone and the Embassy and foreign press quarter have been struck several times, injuries and damage being inflicted.

The British Embassy, and the foreign press hostel nearby, have always been outside the "safe" zone which is on the south bank of the river and comprises British and American business houses, the American and French Embassies and a Chinese residential area. The British Embassy is in the heart of the Chinese city and far from any military objective—a fact which would normally secure it against attack apart altogether from the large identification it wears and which has been repeatedly revealed to the Japanese in un molested low altitude flights round the buildings.

It is significant that Mr R. A. Butler, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said in reply to a question in the Commons that it was not thought worthwhile to protest again, since His Majesty's men's views on the bombing of civilians were well known.

The unfortunate aspect of this admission seems to be that His Majesty's Government evidently does not think that its protest would carry the desired weight; that a further protest would enjoy no better reception in Tokyo than earlier notes in a similar vein. However, there is the danger that if no official cognisance is taken of the affair, a precedent is created which might lead to a sort of unofficial warfare. When Tokyo ignores the bad or good timing of its bombers, according to whether that aim is deliberate or not, then it is tacitly approving those actions. Such a state of affairs leads to the undermining of confidence between Governments, often followed by "misunderstandings" and deliberate antagonism.

The fact that Britain and America are assisting China has nothing to do with the constant bombing of the British Embassy at Chungking and does not excuse such wanton acts in the smallest degree. Ours is a stated and official policy and we would not stoop to such underhand aggravation of an already tense situation as "accidental" bombing. If the Japanese Air Force are really so bad that Tokyo must apologise for their inaccuracy then that is one more reason why Japan should not seek more enemies. If, on the other hand, their aim is deliberate, then Japan does infinite harm

It cannot be denied that the worship men bestow upon money is one of the fundamental causes of war, and if we are to erect a saner world we shall have to break down this false god.

THE GOD WE WORSHIP

By the Rev.

W. ROWLAND JONES

Vicar of Denton, Manchester

WE worship to-day not God but Gold. The temples of this false god are erected at innumerable street corners. He claims the most desirable sites.

Houses for the workers cannot be erected, homes for the aged cannot be built, but these rich temples for the god we worship never cease to spring up.

He is a god who thrives on sacrifice. Best of all, he likes human sacrifice. Wars are fought at his behest.

When he speaks the armies march and the squadrons fly; upon their tribute to him their very strength depends.

He is a ruthless god, and a sickle one. He will raise men to great dignity, and then, by a turn of his merciless wheel, he will cast them off, and trample them in the mire.

Yet they go on worshipping him.

He has his own High Priests, who speak mystic words in his praise. "If you are not initiated," they tell us, "you will not understand. The rites and the ritual are not for the common herd. It is beyond their comprehension—how dare they presume to know? That is our province!"

The Churches, who pretend to worship the true God, are slaves to this false god, who is known by many names, though his chief votaries usually call him High Finance.

His millions of worshippers are less reverend, and prefer more homely names. In my part of the country they call this honoured deity by the familiar title, "Brass!"

The Gold God

Jesus spoke always of Mammon, and He said that it was impossible to be a worshipper of Mammon, and, at the same time, a worshipper of God.

You can't serve God and Gold.

But the followers of Jesus have never quite learnt that lesson. I used to attend Church Conferences at one time, but we heard so much about money and so little about men's souls, so much of Mammon and so little of Christ, that I decided to give up attending.

I still have letters from the Diocese about it. Every one of the letters asks for more and more money.

I find that the Church of England is a very wealthy Church. Its money comes from ground rents on public houses, race-courses, dog-tracks, and from its much poorer property.

The money is not refused, although the Bishops and clergy have so much to say about gambling and drinking.

This absorption with money has turned the Church of England into a vast money-raising institution which provides an economic security for a huge army of clerks, secretaries, typists and lawyers, to say nothing of clerical officials.

to her own integrity. Incidents of this kind simply strengthen the bonds between Britain and China.

It is ironical that pamphlets, urging that immediate peace between China and Japan would lead to peace throughout all the Asia, were dropped with the bombs. That is another subterfuge that could well be dispensed with.

Never before did actions speak so much louder than words.

I do not think that Jesus meant His followers to maintain an organisation like that, and to call it by His sacred name.

The snare of money enslaves the Church. Our devotion to this yellow god we worship is shown in our common speech.

"What did you make?" asked a man in the market-place. He did not mean, "What service did you give to humanity?" He meant, "How much more money were you able to bank?"

A mourning party stood outside my church. "How much did he leave?" asked a bystander. He did not inquire how things he left of real value for the benefit of mankind. He sure of the world.

Men no longer think it is wrong to charge interest on money. Consequently I am staggered to discover that out of 8s. 6d. charged as Income Tax, 8s. goes to interest and debt charges with only 6d. available for State services.

No doubt High Finance will be able to explain that away in the interest of the god it worships and serves.

The measure of our worship of this false god Mammon was never so clearly revealed as in the poster which is being used to boost our War Savings Weeks: "Men are giving their lives; will you not lend your money?"

When we want men's lives for war we do not hesitate to take them.

When we want men's money, we borrow it, if they are prepared to lend—and even for that privilege we are prepared to pay them.

Yes, I am sure. I am right! Mammon is the god we worship.

The only purpose I can see in money is as a means to enable inhabitants of a country to buy all they wish of what they make and import.

High Finance

It therefore seems obvious that the total amount of money should bear a direct relationship to produce and goods.

It also seems obvious to me that every man, woman and child in a country should have sufficient money to provide them with the necessities of life, and a little over for recreation.

The high financier, of course, will shake his head wisely, and say something which really means, "You poor mutt! Do you really think that is possible? It's far more complicated than that."

It may or may not be, but emphatically I say this: The lives of thousands of my fellow countrymen are turned into misery and struggle and wretchedness in the ceaseless, soul-destroying effort to make more money.

Women's lives are turned into an agony trying to pay the family budget on too small an allowance.

I cannot get them to take an interest in God because they are perpetually harassed by shortage of money to obtain what

DRESS AND GOSSIP

THE GENERAL MANAGER of the Glasgow Corporation Transport Department has issued to the women conductors on his undertaking a leaflet which purports to give advice to these ladies on the daring subject of dress and deportment. We have no doubt that the instruction given is necessary if efficiency is to be kept up to a reasonably high average, but it is unfortunate that such efficiency should have to be attained at the expense of two of women's most highly-prized attributes, the expression of their personality by those individual touches to their attire which require no patent rights because they can never be duplicated, and that friendly gossip in which it is the inalienable right of women to indulge.

If we have not completely dissipated the learning which was forced upon our unwilling minds many years ago we might quote the Latin poet Ovid, who knew a great deal about the psychology of dress. "Fars Minima est ipsa puella sui," said that Roman expert, and the broad translation that "a girl is the least part of herself," while owing a great deal to poetic licence, has sufficient truth left in it to be worth remembering even in these regimented and materialistic days.

The uniformed ladies on the Glasgow vehicles may all conform to the dicta which insists that the hat must be worn forward on the brow; that the shape of the hat must not be altered; that the hair must be dressed to clear the coat collar; but even within the narrow limits left to them personally and fair for dress effects will make themselves felt, and we pity the poor male who will be called upon to give judgment when any of the conductresses are "on the mat" for breaches of the dress regulations. He will require the wisdom of Solomon and the dress sense of a Paquin.

BUT MOST OF ALL do we regret the admonishment to the ladies not to gossip with passengers. Who among us has not had the pleasant experience of having a journey shortened by the jocularity of a conductor, or by listening in to his comments on events which may be convulsing either his immediate world or the greater world beyond?

The irrepressibility of the Cockney bus conductor is a byword; he actually brightened the already bright life of the Metropolis in those far-off days when there was light, and even now his merry gossip is sometimes the only light-thing on a darkened journey. How much more then could we enjoy the prattle of a Scots lassie over the weary stretch, say, from Parkhead to Shettleston?

IF NIGHTINGALES ARE PERMITTED in Berkeley Square surely Mr R. F. Smith will not insist on silence in Saatchi and Saatchi. We sympathise with him on the necessity of having to make rule on the dress and deportment of his women conductors, but may we plead on their behalf, and perhaps also on behalf of the more human of the passengers for whom he caters, that the rules be interpreted with a liberality through which personality may toss its dainty little head. From "Passenger Transportation Journal."

"WICK'S" BOWLS NOTES

Craigengower Should Regain League Title

Though C. E. Marques (bowling) is in the same rink, L. C. R. Sousa (C.C.C.), J. W. Leonard (C.C.C.), J. A. Luz (Recreio "A") and J. F. V. Ribeiro (Recreio) seem to find greater interest in the happenings on the rink next door.

Recreio "A" Beaten By Surprising Margin: Set-Back For Indian R.C.

HOME TEAMS had a field day in the Lawn Bowls League last week. Without exception, visiting teams were on the losing side, the most notable result being the 5-0 victory scored by Craigengower C.C. over the champions, Recreio "A".

League Tennis

C.R.C. Defeat University 5-4 In "C" Division

THREE of the five league tennis matches in the "C" Division were played yesterday, the K. Indians-Kowloon C.C. and Craigengower-Recreio games being postponed.

Chinese Recreation Club scored another victory, narrowly beating the University by 4, while South China also forged ahead with a 5½-3½ win over the Army.

T. C. Lo and P. Lui were the only University pair that gained any measure of success against the Chinese R.C. winning two of their matches and drawing the other.

K. I. Chan and H. N. Wong contributed largely to South China's win over the Army, winning as they did all three of their games.

Scores were:

I.R.C. 3, K. Tong 6

Indians lost to Kowloon Tong 3-6.

A. Rahman and J. Kitchell lost to D. Chen and A. H. Bado 2-6; lost to L. Chen and E. Funn 4-6; beat D. Kwok and H. L. Huang 6-3.
M. P. Madar and A. J. Suttat lost to Chen and Bado 1-6; beat Chen and Funn 7-5; lost to Kwok and Huang 3-6.
M. Hasan and A. R. H. Esmail lost to Chen and Bado 2-6; beat Chen and Funn 6-1; lost to Kwok and Huang 5-7.

H.K.U. 4, C.R.C. 5

University lost to C.R.C. 4-5.

G. K. Ho and K. Y. Tam lost to H. N. Chau and T. F. Lo 2-6; lost to C. Wei and H. Chung 5-7; beat M. C. Tung and C. K. Lee 6-3.
T. C. Lo and P. Lui beat Chau and Lo 6-2; beat Wei and Chung 6-4; tied with Tung and Lee 6-6.
F. L. Yung and C. F. Loke lost to Chau and Lo 3-6; lost to Wei and Chung 2-6; tied with Tung and Lee 6-6.

S.C.A. 5½, Army 3½

South China beat Army 5½-3½.

K. I. Chan and H. N. Wong beat Emberton and Duffield 6-1; beat Webb and Denyer 6-0; beat Morgan and Murray 7-5.
J. Hsu and K. C. Wan lost to Emberton and Duffield 4-6; beat Webb and Denyer 6-3; beat Morgan and Murray 6-3.
K. I. Kwok and K. Sung lost to Emberton and Duffield 4-6; beat Webb and Denyer 7-5; lost to Morgan and Murray 3-6.

Biggest Defeat In Years

Though I had expected the Valley team to win, I did not think that they would do it with a margin of 27 shots or that they would be up on all three rinks. It was the biggest thrashing Recreio "A" had had in many years.

With this victory, Craigengower C.C. are set for the championship which they last won in 1936. Already they are one point ahead of Recreio "A" with two matches in hand—a very strong position indeed.

The start of this match gave no indication of its eventual one-sidedness. R. F. Luz, drawn against C. S. Rosset, ran away with a lead of nine shots and as there was very little in it in the other two rinks games, a fairly even tussle seemed likely.

But a complete metamorphosis came over the game when Rosset's rink scored 24 shots without reply from Luz and turned a 0-9 deficit into a 24-9 lead.

U. M. Omar also ran away from "Spuggy" Silva, thanks to steady play by his front men, of whom the two younger Omars were especially good.

An Even Fight

ON the third rink, there was an even fight between B. W. Bradbury and Carlos Silva. The latter returned to the team specially for this all-important game and despite his lack of practice, he revealed flashes of his old form although he was not altogether at his best. The final score on this rink was 24-16, but it might have been much closer.

When the last head was played, Bradbury was leading 20-16. Joe Luz sent down two beautiful woods and C. E. Marques added another. But A. E. Coates, Bradbury's No. 3, rested on the bench for the shot. Johnny Ribeiro and Carlos Silva both had bad luck in their attempts to take this out, and by the end they had to concede four shots on this head as the result of taking out three second shots one after another!

Chief credit in Craigengower's victory must go to Rosset's rink for their splendid recovery. After a shaky start, all four played well to a man. L. Gaddi, promoted for this match, deserves special mention for his great consistency. U. M. Omar conceded a seven against "Spuggy" Silva when leading 20-11, but the Valley players were in no danger of defeat then. Still, it was the first time in many, many years that the champion had given away such a count in a League match.

ON the adjoining green, the Police continued their winning streak with a fine victory over the Indians. True, Jack Shepherd's hitherto unbeaten rink bowed to A. R. Dallah's by nine shots, but Wally Mair and Jock Fender saw the side through by beating A. K. Minu and M. R. Abbas respectively. Shepherd's men were always up against it against Dallah's four, who were playing at the top of their form. The Indian rink were three shots to the good at tea time but a five and six on two heads gave them a substantial lead which they maintained to the end.

Wally Mair was always ahead of Minu, while Fender, after being 16-10 on the 17th head with Abbas, ran away in the last few heads to win by six shots.

In the last head of the day—between Shepherd and Dallah—the Indians were one shot down. Harris drew a lovely wood and Dall sealed the Indians' fate by drawing two more.

A. H. Rumjahn, Dallah's No. 3, who had been playing splendidly throughout the afternoon, failed to alter the position, and Dallah was twice narrow, leaving the Police with three shots on this head and victory by four shots in all.

The return of J. Forrest, J. Orem and J. C. Fender to the team has strengthened the Police considerably. All three were fairly steady on Saturday, and a little more practice will probably weld them into a formidable rink as they have E. G. Post playing No. 1.

THE new Kowloon C.C. combinations are working well. They followed up their victory over the Indians the week before by trouncing the Civil Servants on Saturday by two rinks to one, Tommy Madar's being the only one to lose.

"Teddy" Fincher, after breaking his "duck" the previous week, scored another win, this time at the expense of E. W. Simmonds, and N. J. Bebbington continued his good work as skip by beating J. J. MacGowan.

M. N. Rakusen, the singles champion, was given adequate support by his men and had a seven-shot win.

AS to be expected, Kowloon B.G.C. "A" had no difficulty against Kowloon Docks and picked up five valuable points.

The "B" team, which visited Recreio "B", however, were beaten by two rinks to one.

P. A. Peckham, skipping a rink in the First Division for the first time, did well against C. M. Silva, who was also piloting a rink for the first time. The K.B.G.C. men won by 22-11, thus giving his side one point.

IN the Second Division, Craigengower C.C. lost valuable ground in the race for championship honours as the result of their 5-0 defeat by Prison Officers' Club at Stanley. It was a bad day for them as even Tommy Lock, who has been doing so well of late, also lost.

Kowloon Tong made amends for their previous week's lapse by taking four points from Kowloon C.C. and are in a sound position.

IN the Third Division, the leading teams won, but while Kowloon B.G.C. scored a clean sweep against Craigengower, the Indians only managed to win on one rink and tie in another, and were somewhat fortunate to win the aggregate points by one shot.

The K.B.G.C. are 2½ points ahead of the Indians from the same number of matches played, and the return game between the two sides will go a long way towards deciding the championship in this division.

RAIN has been the bug-bear of the Open Championships to date. Last Sunday's matches in the Rinks were of course washed out, and the Pairs, who are still in the first round stage, have made very little progress.

Those who have yet to play off their matches should avail themselves of the first dry day to have them played.

Annual F.A. Meeting Approves New Rules Maximum Admission Charges

EXCEPT FOR ALTERATION to the period of time to be allowed returned touring teams before filing a statement of accounts, the important proposals of the F. A. Council, which were submitted to the annual general meeting of members last night, were passed without opposition.

It was also decided that future maximum admission charges to any match would be $2.

Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, President, was in the chair, supported by Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Cmdr. Millet and Mr. W. Pryde (Vice-Presidents).

Reviewing the year, the President said:

The net profit of $1,431.59 is highly satisfactory. It was a matter of regret that owing to the political situation Shanghai was unable to come for the annual inter-port. The financial results of charity matches have been fully set out in the report and I feel we have every reason to be proud of the fact that, through the instrumentality of such matches, $20,274.48 has been donated to charities.

New Officers

The following officers were elected:—President, Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith; Vice-President (Civilian), Mr. W. Pryde; Vice-President (Chinese), Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo; Vice-President (Sports), Col. L. A. Touring Finances

Referring to the rule which required that clubs making tours must submit a financial statement within 14 days of their return, Mr. W. E. Hollands suggested that the period be extended to two months. He said a team on tour generally left the day after the last match and consequently it was impossible to file a financial statement within 14 days as it had to await the return of that game.

Mr. Mok Hing supported Mr. Hollands, saying a team might have to wait even more than two months. Mr. Lo suggested that the period be extended to 2½ days, subject to extension by the Council. This was approved.

Team Strength

Concerning the rule which required clubs to play full strength, Mr. J. McKelvie observed that the matter was entirely up to the clubs and had nothing to do with the Association. Mr. Mok expressed the view that as only amateur football was played it was up to the players to appear. Mr. Wong Ka-tsun said the rule was followed by amateur clubs in England.

Mr. J. Skinner pointed out that although players were taken and therefore it was only fair to the public that a club should be at full strength. Mr. Lo suggested that the wording be changed in order to give the Council all the right to call upon any club for an explanation as to why the full team was not played. The rule, as it stood, he said, placed rather too big a burden on clubs. Mr. Pryde pointed out that the Council would call for an explanation only if they had very good reason.

Mr. W. Glover proposed that the rule, as it stood, be put to the vote. This was agreed to.

Cmdr. Millet pointed out the position of the Navy, saying it was sometimes very difficult for them to play a full team and that under the rule they would have to give an explanation. He was assured by the President that no explanation would be called for in their case.

Maximum Admission Fee

In connection with the rule fixing the maximum charge for admission at $1, Mr. Skinner suggested that this be raised to $2. He said a cheaper price would attract too big a crowd with resultant damage to the stands.

The suggestion was opposed by Capt. R. E. Guest, who said the public should not be exploited. At the moment, there was no fixed maximum and any club could charge whatever it liked for a good match. This was hardly fair to the public in general and servicemen in particular.

Lieut. Cmdr. G. S. Hugh-Jones observed that the question of gate money was entirely a matter of business for the clubs concerned. They were the best judges for the happy medium.

Capt. Guest proposed that the maximum charge be fixed at $2 and servicemen $1.

Mr. Skinner said it would be better to leave the question of charging servicemen to the clubs because they had always given them a fair deal.

After Mr. Pryde had spoken in similar vein, Capt. Guest withdrew his proposal, and the rule was passed with the maximum charge fixed at $2 instead of $1. The rule relating to the maximum charge for admission to 50 yards matches was also amended to $2 instead of $1.

Mr. McKelvie raised the question of the use of grounds and appealed to the Council to stop bargaining for terms for their use.

BARMAIDS FAIL TO GET EXEMPTION

Alcohol As A Pain-Killer

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—It is just as necessary to keep British beer glasses filled as to fill the nation's shells, pub owners contended to-day in attempting to gain exemption from the Ministry of Labour industrial call-up for their barmaids.

"The amenities provided at licensed houses do more to keep the people cheerful and confident than anything else," E. Sharp, Chairman of the North-west London Licensed Victuallers Association, declared. "The young women who wait behind the bars and at the lunch tables are doing real national service. They are bright and efficient in their attendance upon the public."

The Ministry of Labour, however, refused to see it that way. A spokesman commented: "Preserving cheerfulness is a peach of an argument, but somebody must ask whether old barmaids cannot fill the role just as cheerfully."

Analgesic Boost

The British medical journal "Lancet" gave an analgesic boost to the cup-of-cheers, confirming that as a pain-killer, ethyl alcohol has a greater effect than aspirin.

"This remarkable advantage of alcohol over aspirin is worthy of note by pharmacologists, who, in the laboratory at any rate, have scarcely done justice to the virtues of a double whisky," the journal declared. "The Lancet" added, however, that "aspirin may reasonably be regarded as the best universal analgesic that has yet been evolved."

Arthur Wheatland of Brondesbury came up with a new one at the Clerkenwell police court the other day after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. He explained to the judge that a bartender gave him Irish whisky instead of Scotch whisky and that the difference in strength threw him. His fine amounted to a little more than £12.

Plain, ordinary tap water got Henry Nash of Bristol in trouble costing him £7 in fines. To prevent a leak in a water pipe from flooding his scullery, Nash left a tap running for two months in his house at Bartonhill. He was accused of wasting 167,000 gallons of water during this time. Nash said part of the blame should be levied on Hitler—most of the city's plumbers are now doing war work.

Italian Officers Executed

ITALIAN officers, court-martialed for inefficiency in the Albanian campaign, were executed by firing squads. This was learned from statements of Italian prisoners.

Some of the officers were said to have inflicted wounds on themselves so that they could be invalided home.

Trawlers' Golden Harvest

Demand For Fish Alters Value Of Catch

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—£10,000 for a single catch was realized by an Icelandic trawler skipper who unloaded a record 36,000 stone of fish at a British port recently.

A golden harvest has fallen to "Trawlertown," a fishing port "somewhere in England" and skippers and mates may earn more than Cabinet ministers.

Deck hands, the lowest paid members of a trawler's crew, are averaging £10 to £12 "all found" for a ten days' trip. Sometimes they make between £30 and £40.

£5 A Day

A trawler's mate in a court case recently was said to be earning £5 a day. Skippers and mates who do not make £20 a week are "not trying," as one fisherman put it.

The reason for this golden harvest is not that wages have increased, but that the demand for fish has enormously altered the value of their shares in the catch.

Dutch, Belgian, French, Danish, Norwegian and Icelandic fishermen are all sharing in the golden harvest.

Wristlet Radio Set Tested

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—A wristlet radio broadcasting set to help rescuers to locate people trapped beneath wreckage is being tested by the Home Office in London.

Anyone wearing the instrument, which weighs six ounces and is three inches in diameter, can send out oscillations on a fixed wavelength by slight pressure on a celluloid strip.

The oscillations can be picked up on an ordinary portable radio set, and rescuers equipped with a direction coil will be able to locate the trapped person.

The radio wrist watch has been devised by a lieutenant in the Polish Army and I. Solar, an electrical engineer, of Dunfermline, Scotland.

NAZIS STRAFE IRELAND—Hitler's airmen, flying high over North Ireland, looted their bombs and this is resultant scene, presumably in Belfast. Wing of hospital has been cleft from top to bottom.

"Lost Colony" of 2,000 U.S. Citizens in Britain

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—Demands for an American ship to sail to Britain and repatriate more than 2,000 persons of a "Lost Colony" of stranded United States citizens have been forwarded to Washington.

Lawrence L. Tweedy, President of the American Chamber of Commerce in London and head of the American Relief Society, said he and other United States businessmen have urged Washington officials to "let down the bars of the Neutrality Act" and provide a ship with which to return the "Lost Colony" home.

Among the more than 2,000 persons remaining in wartime Britain, Tweedy said, are 60 destitute American families hard hit by closing down of their businesses because of the war. The majority of the United States citizens want to return to America for the duration. Some of them are businessmen and their families who were unable to evacuate on the last United States ships to leave the country.

Many Applications

Tweedy said that every week the American Relief Society is dealing with new applications for help. Weekly payments are being made in cases of genuine hardship.

Tie-up of all transport facilities, difficulties of war travel of its nationals on belligerent ships have prevented these people from leaving Britain. Virtually the only way they could reach America would be through Lisbon—but thousands of applications are already on file for transportation to that city, and then Americans might find it illegal to attempt to reach Portugal by boat.

Waive Neutrality Act

"The Embassy in London has had more than 1,500 applications for facilities to return to America. The only way out is for Washington to allow an American ship to sail and to waive the Neutrality Act temporarily for this to be done."

Tweedy added that the United States government had, in fact, decided to do this some time ago "if the German government would declare the ship safe from attack." This agreement was not reached between the governments and the American government dropped the proposal.

Smuggling On Eire Borders

BELFAST, July 8 (UP).—South of the border, partner, there's some rustling going on and Irish officials are brushing up on western American police methods to catch "boudoir smugglers" operating between the Eire and Ulster borders.

Working on the theory that beauty is above the law, this gang of smugglers are running beauty aids from unrationed Eire northward into Ulster. It is believed that the smugglers include a large group of women. Police already have seized large quantities of lipsticks, nail files, and cigarette lighters as well as more than 1,000 powder puffs, hundreds of bottles of perfume, 2,245 hairnets, 900 combs, 63 dozen handkerchiefs, 9,000 pairs of long bootlaces, and 4,000 pairs of shoe laces.

Evidence that the group's activities are spreading was seen in the seizure of a crate of chocolate, 17 dozen pocket knives, some onions and 3,000 clothes pins.

This contraband was seized in the Scotstown area on the Tyrone border. One load of contraband was discovered in a truck carrying crates of chickens. Police of Northern and Southern Ireland are cooperating in an effort to halt the traffic.

"Blitz" Quitters Condemned

Cardiff City Fathers Roused To Wrath

CARDIFF, July 8 (UP).—The Cardiff City Council, proclaiming the use of the words "guts" and "My God" ungentlemanly, has authorized printing of 10,000 copies of a poem designed to halt the migrations of "blitz-quitters" who nightly leave the city in their cars for places of greater safety.

The "blitz-quitter" was roundly condemned by the city fathers at a recent council meeting. He was described as the man who packs hot water bottles, blankets and pillows into his car, then drives to country districts to spend the night. Authorities said that by leaving his home unguarded, the "blitz-quitter" endangered his neighborhood by not being on hand in the event of raiders setting his house afire.

Consequently, the city council studied the following poem attacking the "blitz-quitters."

To those who pack and run away,
And have not got the guts to stay,
If all were cowards, such as you,
My God, what would poor old England do?

Words Substituted

Council-member Sir Herbert Hiles enthusiastically approved of the poem as written. But other members disagreed. "Language of the gutter," they said. "Doggerel, not quite the thing for an official publication."

However, most of the council members agreed with Sir Herbert's statement that "I would like the chance of sticking to the council but the words 'My God' and replace them with 'then.'"

The opposition gained two points before the council authorized the poem's publication at city expense. It was agreed that the verse, as officially printed, would substitute the word "pluck" for "guts"—and that the council would strike out the words "My God" and replace them with "then."

Henpecked Husbands Gather

HALIFAX, Yorks, July 8 (UP).—Members of the Ancient Order of Henpecked Husbands have held their annual general meeting again and enjoyed their one day off in the year from their wives.

None of them revealed the secret meeting place. They were afraid their wives might call. Every year in spring or early summer, the henpecked husbands of Great Britain meet somewhere in the lonely fastnesses of the Yorkshire-Lancashire moors between Halifax and Rochdale.

They discuss new ways of combating pellicot influence in their homes. All of them hope they will never again have to attend the meeting of the ancient order.

Few Resignations

But there are few resignations. This year, there was a larger attendance than usual. More husbands managed to dodge their wives.

They told them that they were going fire-watching, spending the day hunting cigarettes or razor-blades or were going to see a man about the income-tax.

German Pilots Rouge Cheeks

Called "Moral Deviates"

LONDON, July 8 (UP).—Some of the Luftwaffe pilots shot down in raids over Britain have waved hair and enameled finger-nails. Some of them rouge their cheeks and paint their lips. Medical scientists call them "moral deviates."

German airmen in British prisoners-of-war camps who use rouge and face-cream have been found by Sir James Purves-Stewart, the famous neurologist.

Every one of them wore the Iron Cross.

Sir James says: "This particular form of perversion abounds all over Germany. And it is encouraged. 'People of this temperament are subject to severe emotional outbursts. Then they become ruthless and savage—which well accords with some of the examples of German air war we have had here. 'All of these men seem to belong to the officer class. The N.C.O.'s and the men seem to be quite decent.'"

Peru-Ecuador Clash: Reconciliation Moves

WASHINGTON, July 9 (Reuter).—The United States, Argentina and Brazil have asked Peru and Ecuador to establish a No Man's Land on both sides of a line known as the Status Quo line in the territory disputed by the two nations.

Mr Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State, at a press conference today announced that after the envoys of the three nations had made the foregoing recommendation to Peru and Ecuador, the three governments also informed the governments of all the other American republics and asked them to give their support towards ending the conflict.

Under the proposals, the governments of Peru and Ecuador would withdraw their military forces 15 kilometres from each side of the "Status Quo Line" establishing a neutral zone 30 kilometres in depth between now and an armistice.

Both governments are requested to prevent their planes from passing over the neutral zone.

Pan-American Efforts

WASHINGTON, July 9 (Reuter).—Mr Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State, informed journalists that the governments of Argentina, Brazil and United States had sent a circular telegram to their representatives in all other American republics instructing them to seek interviews with the Foreign Ministers to which they are accredited, and to suggest that a joint effort be made by all American nations to use their influence and aid to bring about a solution of the Ecuador-Peru controversy.

They further were instructed to express the hope that all American governments would support the proposal made by the governments of Argentina, Brazil and the United States.

Mr Welles made clear that this measure was purely temporary.

Fighting Ceases

QUITO, July 9 (UP).—It is officially announced that the fighting between Peruvian and Ecuadorian troops in the border dispute has ceased, but each country has accused the other of starting the trouble.

BRITISH LOSSES IN SYRIA

LONDON, July 9 (British Wireless).—Replying to a question in the House of Commons today asking for a statement on the position in Syria, the Prime Minister said:

"I need hardly say how very glad I am brought to this distressing conflict in which nearly 2,500 British, Australian and Indian soldiers, who volunteered or joined the Army in order to defend France, have fallen, killed or wounded, under French bullets as the result of the lamentable mission which the affairs of so many good people in so many parts of the world have been thrown by the victories of Hitler's army."

"Therefore, we welcome these negotiations and I trust that they may reach a speedy conclusion. Pending any formal arrangements being made, military operations must, of course, continue without abatement."

German Officials Warned

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP).—Official agencies today stated that the ousted German and Italian Consular employees who choose to return to their homelands on ships other than those provided by the United States "travel at their own risk." The comment followed a report that Captain Weidemann, Consul-General at San Francisco, and six members of his staff intend to leave for Germany next Sunday on a Japanese liner.

U. S. FLEET GROWING RAPIDLY

WASHINGTON, July 9 (Reuter).

The United States will be producing 100 destroyers a year by 1943, disclosed Admiral A. M. Robinson, Chief of the Naval Bureau of Ships.

The United States shipbuilding programme, he declared, is proceeding much faster than the most optimistic in the Naval Department had expected but it is "absolutely essential" to speed up production materials to keep up this pace.

Testifying before the Senate Defence Investigating Committee, Admiral Robinson said that the programme was "four or five months" ahead of the rest of the national defence effort.

Relentless R.A.F. Raids In Mid East

CAIRO, July 9 (Reuter).

Direct hits with heavy bombs were obtained by R.A.F. bombers on a railway station and warehouses near the harbour of Tripoli, says Wednesday's R.A.F. Middle East communiqué.

Aircraft of the Royal Australian Air Force carried out a diving machinegun attack on Vichy armoured cars and motor transport vehicles near Beirut.

During the night of July 7-8, heavy bombers attacked and damaged Vichy aircraft on the ground at Aleppo and on satellite aerodromes at Nusairiyah, where three Vichy aircraft were destroyed.

Cirenaica

In Cirenaica, R.A.F. bombers again carried out successful attacks on the harbour at Benghazi. In one of these raids a large petrol fire was started on a railway terminus siding. Another extensive fire was started at the base of the Cathedral mole, causing a five-hundred yards belt of flames which spread along the docks and which was visible for 40 miles, under which was another formation which also severely damaged one CR-42 aircraft.

R.A.F. bombers also attacked targets at Eleusis, Greece, and on the island of Crete, causing fires. All aircraft returned safely.

Asking dismissal of the suit, he completely denied the charges of "having treated her kindly and affectionately and conducted herself towards him as a true and virtuous wife" as the plaintiff claimed.

Tighten Up Your Overcalls!

A LIGHT opening bid is not nearly so dangerous as a questionable overcall. At match-point duplicate, particularly, a third-hand bidder is apt to take all sorts of liberties, opening on as little as 1½ honour-tricks. This does not mean, however, that fourth hand can overcall with impunity. The opener's partner, though he passed originally, is still to be reckoned with. Note to-day's hand.

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass Pass 1♠ 2♣
Dbl. Pass Pass Pass

Perhaps it is superfluous to point out that East's diamond bid was more psychic than honest. South's overcall, vulnerable, had no alibi whatsoever; it was just a poor bid. As to East's leave-in of the penny double, either his courage or his optimism was very high. It must be admitted, however, that he would have had to look hard for a safe take-out.

After West had opened the diamond ace and seen dummy, a diamond continuation seemed unattractive, particularly since East had played the deuce. West correctly shifted to his top heart. Declarer won and laid down the club ace; then, when the jack fell, led a low club to dummy's ten. The heart king was cashed and then, with no convenient egress from the dummy, declarer played the diamond queen. East won and returned another diamond.

West ruffed with the club six and, without perceptible hesitation, undeveloped the spade ace. Declarer, who had carefully noted that to date East had shown only the diamond king and heart ace, hardly could fail to guess wrong at this point. He let the lead ride to his own jack. East put up the queen and returned the thirteenth heart. Declarer, seeing what was coming, threw his losing spade, but this did not avail because East then played his last diamond, thus assuring West of a trump trick.

Excellent defence—specifically West's underlead of the spade ace—had compensated for East's semi-psychic opening bid.

SHE NEVER SMILED FOR FIVE YEARS

By SYLVIA PANKHURST

Sylvia Pankhurst, former Suffragist leader and now active worker for the cause of Abyssinian freedom, has just interviewed the Empress of Abyssinia. In this interview the Empress disclosed for the first time her plans to return home. Sylvia Pankhurst has been an intimate friend of the Empress for five years, and is the editor of "New Times and Ethiopia News."

FOR FIVE YEARS THE EMPRESS OF ETHIOPIA NEVER SMILED. Gracious and gentle, never abandoning faith in her country's ultimate liberation, she has had the agony of her people under Mussolini's rule always present to her mind.

When she went to London from her home in Bath after the great news of Ethiopian successes and the falling fortunes of the Fascist invaders, one would scarcely have recognised her. One saw her now as she was in her own capital—vivacious, strong, with sparkling eyes and ready smiles, the varied expressions of her eager thoughts succeeding rapidly—a very gallant lady.

In her exiled home in Bath she has hoped and planned for the return to Ethiopia all these five years.

She insisted that her children and grandchildren in exile with her should study unceasingly to fit themselves for the great part of leaders in the development of their native country. The Crown Prince studied with a tutor, and afterwards at Liverpool University; the Duke of Harrar at Wellington College; the Princess Tsahai, following her own ardent desire, became a nurse at the Children's Hospital, Great Ormond Street, and, after qualifying as a State Registered nurse, went to Guy's for further experience.

GALLANT CHIEF
EVEN THE ELDER
DAUGHTER of the Empress, the widowed Princess Tanagne, has been working to equip herself for future responsibilities. She is the widow of Ras Desta, who continued to fight the Italians among the forests of Sidamo for two years after the Emperor had started on his historic mission to Europe, which has resulted in Ethiopia's alliance with Britain to fight the Axis, and his triumphant return to his country.

Ras Desta was finally captured by the soldiers of Mussolini, and instead of receiving the honours due to a prisoner of war, was shot and decapitated, his head being carried round as a sign of Italian vengeance. The murder of this magnificent son-in-law, who was an ardent co-operator in the great social reforms of the Emperor and Empress, and a most able and generous man, is one of the deep sorrows which have fallen upon the Imperial family and the people of Ethiopia.

RAS DESTA'S DAUGHTER AND SONS, with the Empress's youngest boy, are also at school, popular with their companions there and notable in their sports. Their home life is simple and sensible, much like that of English children, and their English governess proudly told me of their efficient wartime help in "digging for victory" in the big garden, which supplies all the household needs in fruit and vegetables.

The Empress, like the Emperor, regards the cause of Ethiopia as part of the cause of world freedom against the Axis, and they have both given many valuable and rare Ethiopian treasures to the British Red Cross.

MUCH TO BE DONE
"And when I am home again," she said with radiant happiness, "how much I shall have to do! My school for girls—they have made a barracks of it; but it will be reopened as soon as I return."

The Mennen Lyceum of which she spoke the first Ethiopian high school for girls, on modern European lines, was a cherished work of the Empress. She wanted to start it when the Emperor was regent and the Empress Zauditu was on the throne. The Empress Zauditu, daughter of the Emperor Menelik II, occupied the throne with the Emperor Haile Selassie, then Ras Makonnen, as Regent. But, steeped in the old traditions, Zauditu considered such innovations unnecessary. She thought the old style schools quite sufficient.

When Empress Mennen came to the throne the high school was her first project. A distinguished Frenchwoman was selected as headmistress, and most of her assistants were French or British. The curriculum was the same as that of a good boys' grammar school, with gymnastics and sports, music, painting, and also domestic science. Modern languages were a strong point. The school was an instant success. It started with 100 boarders, and many more day pupils. The little dark girls in their "gym" tunics vaulted and leapt and climbed with all the vim and go of British or American girls.

"The child marriage is the worst of African customs," the Empress told me. "My advice has been: keep your girls at school and do not let them marry till they are 18 at the very earliest."

HOSPITAL WORK
THE EMPRESS was active in the work of the hospitals especially that for maternity, the mothers' and babies' welfare centres, and clinics which she helped to found in Ethiopia.

When all the progressive work in which she took so zealous a share was broken off short by Mussolini's outrageous and unprovoked aggression the Empress Mennen showed her courage and her quality. She called together the women of the capital, and urged them to join in patriotic effort first, of which she herself was president, undertook to assist the provisioning of the army.

Under its auspices hundreds of women of all ranks met at the palace daily, seasoning meat with salt and pepper and other condiments, and drying it in the hot African sun. According to Ethiopian custom, they baked a sort of hard bread of many nourishing ingredients mixed with butter and made into small cakes, sometimes no larger than a bean and so light that a soldier could carry on his back, together with his other equipment, sufficient to feed him for a month with only water in addition. Some of this bread was ground into powder and put in sacks, to be eaten dry, or mixed with water, and cooked in various ways.

Under the presidency of the Princess Tsahai, another organisation of women, made gas masks which covered the face and which were coloured dark brown, not to show out to the enemy. They were beautifully made. The European doctors praised the skillful work, but the deadly yperite which the Italians sprayed from their planes on men, women, and children, stocks and crops, was used on too large a scale, and was of too destructive a character, for their amateur gas masks to cope with it. The yperite burnt the clothes, the hair, the very skin; it left only a painful cavity where once were eyes.

HIGH HOPES
ALL THAT THE EMPRESS SAW AS she visited gas sufferers in the hospitals. Such sad memories will never leave her, but to-day hope and impatience for the great return overwhelm all other feelings.

"My plans? To return home; to open again the schools and the hospitals, which the invaders have diverted to other uses; to continue my work which was only beginning; to open other high schools for the girls in all the towns; to wipe out illiteracy, to establish efficient care of maternity and infancy, on the lines we had begun in the capital, throughout the country."

The Italian occupation will have left behind many sad problems, with which the Empress and her people will have to cope; women widowed, children orphaned, families scattered, property destroyed. Farms have been laid waste, flocks and herds wantonly slaughtered; a great rebuilding will be required. The Empress will take a capable and courageous share in the work of reconstruction.

In expressing her great joy at the prospect of going home, the Empress gave her thanks to all the friends in Britain, Europe, and the United States who have helped to defend the cause of Ethiopia and justice. Her faith in the triumph of justice throughout the world is firm and bright.

LONDON, July 9 (Reuters).—Replying to Major-General Sir Alfred Knox in the House of Commons today, Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, said that supplies of rice for the poor in the International Settlement in Shanghai were primarily a matter for the Municipal Council to take up with the Japanese authorities.

SENSELESS ACTION

THE repeated Japanese bombing attacks on Chungking have lately been of increasing viciousness, and though the civilian population has not suffered more than usual, the so-called "safe" zone and the Embassy and foreign press quarter have been struck several times, injuries and damage being inflicted.

The British Embassy, and the foreign press hostel nearby, have always been outside the "safe" zone which is on the south bank of the river and comprises British and American business houses, the American and French Embassies and a Chinese residential area. The British Embassy is in the heart of the Chinese city and far from any military objective—a fact which would normally secure it against attack apart altogether from the large identification it wears and which has been repeatedly revealed to the Japanese in unmoistened low altitude flights round the buildings.

It is significant that Mr. R. A. Butler, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said in reply to a question in the Commons that it was not thought worthwhile to protest again, since His Majesty's Government's views on the bombing of civilians were well known.

The unfortunate aspect of this admission seems to be that His Majesty's Government evidently does not think that its protest would carry the desired weight; that a further protest would enjoy no better reception in Tokyo than earlier notes in a similar vein. However, there is the danger that if no official cognisance is taken of the affair, a precedent is created which might lead to a sort of unofficial warfare. When Tokyo ignores the bad or good aiming of its bombers, according to whether that aim is deliberate or not, then it is tacitly approving those actions. Such a state of affairs leads to the undermining of confidence between Governments, often followed by "misunderstandings" and deliberate antagonism.

The fact that Britain and America are assisting China has nothing to do with the constant bombing of the British Embassy at Chungking and does not excuse such wanton acts in the smallest degree. Ours is a stated and official policy and we would not stoop to such underhand aggravation of an already tense situation as "accidental" bombing. If the Japanese Air Force are really so bad that Tokyo must apologise for their inaccuracy then that is one more reason why Japan should not seek more enemies. If, on the other hand, their aim is deliberate, then Japan does infinite harm

It cannot be denied that the worship men bestow upon money is one of the fundamental causes of war, and if we are to erect a saner world we shall have to break down this false god.

THE GOD WE WORSHIP

By the Rev.

W. ROWLAND JONES

Vicar of Denton, Manchester

WE worship to-day not God but Gold.

The temples of this false god are erected at innumerable street corners. He claims the most desirable sites.

Houses for the workers cannot be erected, homes for the aged cannot be built, but these rich temples for the god we worship never cease to spring up.

He is a god who thrives on sacrifice. Best of all, he likes human sacrifice. Wars are fought at his behest.

When he speaks the armies march and the squadrons fly; upon their tribute to him their very strength depends.

He is a ruthless god, and a fickle one. He will raise men to great dignity, and then, by a turn of his merciless wheel, he will cast them off, and trample them in the mire.

Yet they go on worshipping him.

He has his own High Priests, who speak mystic words in his did he leave?" asked a bystander. He did not inquire how things, the Church surrendered there are so many more important thoughts to hold in life."

I have also a deep suspicion that our money muddles have very largely arisen through the very questionable and dangerous practice of charging interest on money.

"What did you make?" asked a man in the market-place. He did not mean, "What service did you give to humanity." He meant, "How much more money were you able to bank?"

A mourning party stood outside my church. "How much Church did he leave?" asked a bystander. He did not inquire how things, the Church surrendered there are so many more important thoughts to hold in life."

Men no longer think it is wrong to charge interest on money. Consequently I am staggered to discover that out of 8s. 6d. charged as Income Tax, 8s. 6d. goes to interest and debt charges with only 6d. available for State services.

No doubt High Finance will be able to explain that away in the interest of the god it worships and serves.

The measure of our worship of this false god Mammon was never so clearly revealed as in the poster which is being used to boost our War Savings Weeks: "Men are giving their lives; will you not lend your money?"

When we want men's lives for war we do not hesitate to take them.

When we want men's money, we borrow it, if they are prepared to lend—and even for that privilege we are prepared to pay them.

Yes, I am sure I am right! Mammon is the god we worship.

When we want men's money, we borrow it, if they are prepared to lend—and even for that privilege we are prepared to pay them.

Yes, I am sure I am right! Mammon is the god we worship.

When we want men's money, we borrow it, if they are prepared to lend—and even for that privilege we are prepared to pay them.

Yes, I am sure I am right! Mammon is the god we worship.

When we want men's money, we borrow it, if they are prepared to lend—and even for that privilege we are prepared to pay them.

Yes, I am sure I am right! Mammon is the god we worship.

When we want men's money, we borrow it, if they are prepared to lend—and even for that privilege we are prepared to pay them.

I do not think that Jesus meant His followers to maintain an organisation like that, and to call it by His sacred name.

The snare of money enslaves the Church.

Our devotion to this yellow god we worship is shown in our common speech.

"What did you make?" asked a man in the market-place. He did not mean, "What service did you give to humanity." He meant, "How much more money were you able to bank?"

A mourning party stood outside my church. "How much Church did he leave?" asked a bystander. He did not inquire how things, the Church surrendered there are so many more important thoughts to hold in life."

DRESS AND GOSSIP

THE GENERAL MAN-

AGER of the Glasgow Corporation Transport Department has issued to the women conductors on his undertaking a leaflet which purports to give advice to these ladies on the daring subject of dress and deportment. We have no doubt that the instruction given is necessary if efficiency is to be kept up to a reasonably high average, but it is unfortunate that such efficiency should have to be attained at the expense of two of women's most highly-prized attributes, the expression of their personality by those individual touches to their attire which require no patent rights because they can never be duplicated, and that friendly gossip in which it is the inalienable right of women to indulge.

If we have not completely dissipated the learning which was forced upon our unwilling minds many years ago we might quote the Latin poet Ovid, who knew a great deal about the psychology of dress. "Pars Minima est ipsa puella sui," said that Roman expert, and the broad translation that "a girl is the least part of herself," while owing a great deal to poetic licence, has sufficient truth left in it to be worth remembering even in these regimented and materialistic days.

The uniformed ladies on the Glasgow vehicles may all conform to the dicta which insist that the hat must be worn forward on the brow; that the shape of the hat must not be altered; that the hair must be dressed to clear the coat collar; that even within the narrow limits left to them personally and their dress effects will make themselves felt, and we pity the poor maid who will be called upon to give judgment when any of the conductresses are "on the mat" for breaches of the dress regulations. He will require the wisdom of Solomon and the dress sense of a Paquin.

BUT MOST OF ALL do we regret the admonishment to the ladies not to gossip with passengers. Who among us has not had the pleasant experience of having a journey shortened by the lucidity of a conductor, or by listening in to his comments on events which may be convulsing either his immediate world or the greater world beyond?

The irrepressibility of the Cockney bus conductor is a byword; he actually brightened the already bright life of the Metropolis in those far-off days when there was light and even now "his merry gossip" is a welcome note in the life of a darkened journey. How much more then could we enjoy the prattle of a Scots lassie over the weary stretch, say, from Parkhead to Shettleston?

IF NIGHTINGALES ARE PERMITTED in Berkeley Square surely Mr. R. F. Smith will not insist on silence in Saatchell Street. We sympathise with him on the necessity of having to make rule on the dress and deportment of his women conductors, but may we plead on their behalf, and perhaps also on behalf of the more human of the passengers for whom he caters, that the rules be interpreted with a liberality through which personality may toss its dainty little head.—From "Passenger Transportation Journal."

NANCY

CHUNG HWA CO. FOUNDER DIES IN H.K.

The death occurred yesterday of Mr. Loh Fei Pak-ong, member of the People's Political Council and founder of the Chung Hwa Book Company, Ltd., at the age of 60. He was telephonically reported to be in Hongkong.

He died of heart failure and was survived by a wife, a son and two daughters.

Members of the P.P.C. resident in Hongkong who feel his death a great loss to the Council have telephonically reported it to Chungking.

Revolutionary Work
A native of Tungshan, Chekiang, Mr. Loh Fei was engaged in revolutionary propaganda work as a newspaper editor in his early days in Hankow and Changsha.

In the first year of the Chinese Republic, he established and became General Manager of the Chung Hwa Book Company, in Shanghai and Hongkong. To-day, the company is one of the largest book publishing concerns in China, employing between 3,000 and 4,000 workers.

In 1930, Mr. Fei established the Pao An Industrial Company in Shanghai with a branch in Hongkong.

Axis Drugs Victims Into Compliance

Obtain Foreign Currency
LONDON, July 9 (British Wireless).—The Prime Minister's statement in the House of Commons regarding the Syrian armistice discussions contained a reference to German activities—the smuggling of cocaine and hashish into Egypt and Palestine for the purpose of undermining the health and morale of the local inhabitants.

It is well-known in informed quarters in London that this traffic, which provides Germany with precious foreign exchange, is conducted by the German armistice delegation in Syria. The traffic is operated by gangs in fishing motor-boats plying between Haifa, Sidon and Gaza.

These gangs bring in as much as one kilogramme a week of cocaine and one kilogramme of hashish worth many hundreds of pounds sterling.

The procedure is that the cocaine, which is very largely produced in Peru, is carried to Europe by the Latin-Hallan air service operating between Brazil and Rome, and is then dispersed all over the Continent.

This German trek may suffer an abrupt cessation if the Syrian armistice discussions reach a favourable conclusion.

Boulder Tragedy In Chungking

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
CHUNGKING, July 9 (UP).—One hundred and twenty-five persons were killed or wounded at 3:40 a.m. to-day when a giant granite boulder weighing at least 40 tons rolled down the Chialing river from a height of 300 feet from Chungking's city wall, behind the American Methodist Hospital.

Mr. J. J. Paterson Reviews Conditions In Far East

"I have mentioned difficult trading conditions because I want to stress how our interest and our future are being threatened. Requisition for the moment is right and proper but it takes little thought for the future. In the Far East, shipping has had to depend on the abnormal and the profits and depreciation we are allowed to-day will not of themselves provide us with all we shall require in the future nor indeed go any distance along that path."

This statement was made by the Hon. Mr. J. J. Paterson this morning when he presided at the sixtieth ordinary general meeting of the Indo-China Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., held at the Offices of Messrs Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., Pedder Street, at noon.

What was described as a rather better report than last year was placed before the shareholders. Thanks were extended to the Royal Navy, the Government of Hongkong and His Majesty's Consular Officials for the "invaluable assistance they have always so readily given."

Present at the meeting were the Hon. Mr. K. Lo, Mr. S. T. Williamson and Mr. L. J. Davies (Directors), Mr. C. T. Tod (Secretary), the Hon. Mr. Li Tse-fong, Messrs M. H. Lo, D. Lynd, D. S. Robb, H. J. Armstrong, M. L. H. Ralston, J. M. de Silva, A. C. Wilcox, Chui Sui-nam, J. Fleming, P. Morrison, Chan Wing, D. L. Bosanquet, F. C. Hall, J. F. Feely, G. H. Piercy and Lo Yuk-wing (Shareholders).

Directors' Report
Following is the report of the Directors:

After four months trading on their own account the Company's Coasting and Calcutta vessels were requisitioned at fixed rates of hire by the Ministry of Shipping, London, on completion of discharge at the first terminal port on and after May 1. Several important units of the Company's River Fleet were requisitioned later in the year whilst the remainder continued to lie idle in consequence of the closure of the Yangtze.

The claims against the Japanese Government for our damaged River Craft have not yet been met.

The loan with the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation for the four vessels acquired three years ago, which stood at £204,881.12.2d on the 31st December, 1939, has now been liquidated.

An addition to the Fleet has been made by the construction of the Motor Vessel Hsinang which was launched on February 20, 1941, and is expected to be put into commission shortly. The cost of this vessel is being paid out of available funds. At December 31, 1940, the sum of approximately £23,000 still remained to be paid and this figure is included under Sundry Creditors in the Balance Sheet.

Disposal of Balance
The balance of Steamers' Working Accounts showed a profit of £381,061.17.11, (the rate taken for conversion being the average rate of exchange for the year (or 1/2.27/32) and after providing £101,759.13.10 for Depreciation and £22,177.6.9 for their help. The Company

For the first four months of the year our Coasting and Calcutta ships traded freely with good returns but after May 1 came under Government requisition on completion of their voyages at White Paper rates and conditions. That is how they are employed to-day.

Yangtze River
I have mentioned the Coasters and Calcutta ships; it must not be forgotten that, as I said last year, the greater part of our River fleet was laid up, the Yangtze closed to all but Japanese tonnage. Some of our river vessels lie above Kiangyin and as the Japanese contend that that river of the river is within their zone of hostilities, although their own commercial craft ply there with comparative freedom, we are unable even to shift our ships to a place of safety. You will remember it was under such conditions that the Company sustained seven casualties estimated at about £113,000; our claims at the time were presented to the Japanese Government through our Consular Officials but these have not been paid yet. But most of the Company's river tonnage that was available to us has been requisitioned.

I would again repeat that trading on the China Coast has not been easy since most of the ports have been blockaded and those that are open to us still are affected by complex currency problems to name one of the evils left in the wake of a war which has been going on since 1937. Fortunately the Company's activities are not confined to the China Coast alone and the ships engaged in our long established trades with North Borneo, the Straits and India have fared better.

Officials' Thanks
Once more I thank, and never more gratefully, the Royal Navy, the Government of Hongkong and His Majesty's Consular Officials for the invaluable assistance they have always so readily given. With the outlook so clouded the Indo-China S. N. Co. Ltd. is particularly grateful for their help. The Company

For the moment money must be put to windward; before the deferred shares can be of value the preferred shareholders will have to be paid off but all your directors can safely recommend at this moment is a payment of four years preferred interest, leaving nine years to meet.

For shipping is a business of ups and downs, more downs than ups and history shows how very essential it is to guard the profits of the better years.

Turning to the Accounts themselves you will see from the Profit & Loss Account that the net balance of Steamers' Working is £381,061.17.11, net gain on Unit-Sold £120.11.0 and Transfer Fees £73.7.0. For the purposes of comparison, last year's figures are also shown in the Report. After providing for Depreciation £101,759.13.10 and £22,177.6.9 for all other liabilities there remains a profit of £237,319.15.10 which has been carried forward to the Appropriation Account.

With the balance brought forward from 1939 of £18,746.13.3, the amount available in the Appropriation Account is £257,065.9.1.

Directors' Fees
The Directors propose to transfer £100,000 to General Reserve and to pay a dividend on the preferred ordinary shares for the years 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1931, a total of £59,000.10.0 to carry forward unappropriated to 1941 £27,559.13.1.

Directors' fees have been paid for the first time since 1930.

In the Balance Sheet the Book Value of steamships etc. now stands at £249,000 as compared with £240,000 last year. This is due to additions to the fleet during the year of £110,759.13.10 less £101,759.13.10 depreciation written off.

Under current Assets the sum of £143,626.4.0 for Accounts Receivable, and Agency Balances has all been accounted for since the end of the year.

With regard to the Liabilities, I have mentioned difficult trading conditions because I want to stress how our interest and our future are being threatened. Requisition for the moment is right and proper but it takes little thought for the future. In the Far East, shipping has had to depend on the abnormal and the profits and depreciation we are allowed to-day will not of themselves provide us with all we shall require in the future nor indeed go any distance along that path."

BRITONS ON RIVIERA

Final Expulsion

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
CANNES, July 10 (UP).—All British nationals except farmers, industrialists and domestic servants were ordered to-day by the French Government immediately to quit the French Riviera which has long been the playground of British millionaires, stage stars and the aristocracy.

It is estimated that nearly 2,000 Britons remained in the Riviera despite the extensive repatriation during the war and following the Armistice.

Most of those remaining own palatial villas or farms along the coast or have yachts tied up in the harbours where they live. They have been given the choice of seven other departments in Free France where they may remain without being bothered.

No reason is given for the order. Many have appealed to the United States Embassy in Vichy, which is to choose of British affairs in Free France, but the police order is final and the Embassy is helpless to intervene.

Colony Rainfall And Water Facts

Figures issued to-day by the Water Authority dated July 1 indicate that, in spite of the heavy rainfall which the Colony has experienced, the total recorded by the Royal Observatory for the first half of the year was still less than the near-record total for the same period last year.

Total rainfall for the first six months this year amounted to 50.075 inches, against 65.335 inches for the same period in 1940.

All reservoirs on the island were full, the total storage being 2,362.55 million gallons. Of reservoirs in Kowloon, however, the 3,000 million gallon Jubilee Reservoir was still 10 1/2 feet below overflow, while Kowloon Byewash was two feet below overflow. Total Kowloon storage was 2,657.35 million gallons.

Average consumption of water per person in Hongkong and Kowloon was 23.45 gallons. A constant supply was maintained throughout the first half of the year.

Trading With Enemy Charge

Cheung Ching-pong alias Chen Man, merchant, was charged before Mr. G. T. Lowry at Central Magistracy this morning with trading with the Enemy. The nature of the charge was not disclosed.

Mr. F. G. Nigel, pleaded not guilty on behalf of Defendant and the case was remanded for a week for further inquiries. Defendant was allowed bail in $1,000.

Sergeant Russell is in charge of the case for the Police.

Nazis 10,000 Tanks Against Soviet

where the enemy suffered heavy losses.

Strange Silence
BERLIN, July 9 (UP)—For the second successive day the German High Command significantly drew a complete veil over the fighting on the German-Soviet front. However, authorized German quarters declared that fierce fighting is raging along the whole length of the front where the Nazis are seeking to smash through the Stalin Line, with the invaders now from 300 to 400 kilometers inside Soviet territory.

It was stated that the conflict has now entered its second decisive phase. "Soviet troops have taken up new defence positions," it was revealed, and then added:

"The High Command's objective is not primarily to conquer mere territory, but to bring about the complete and absolute destruction of the main Soviet armies."

Military Reasons
It was declared that the present reticence on the part of the High Command is based on military reasons. "At many points, Soviet communications have completely broken down and the Red army command has no means of knowing where the main German thrusts are coming. Their difficulties are further increased by the heavy losses of the Red air fleets, which make it virtually impossible to conduct air reconnaissance. The German High Command's silence is designed to prevent revealing any information to them."

According to the official news agency, the Luftwaffe, attacking communications in the rear of the Russian forces, on July 8 destroyed 14 trains, 273 trucks and 88 tanks. In addition, trains were derailed or set on fire. Railway lines at numerous points were dislocated. Marching troops and truck columns were severely damaged by bomb and machine-gun fire.

It is claimed that the Soviet attempts to create new defence positions on the Latvian-Soviet frontier have been smashed, the Soviet troops being hurled back by the advancing Germans.

Strong Resistance
The Reds yesterday employed strong forces to hold up the Nazi-Rumanian offensive in Bessarabia. Soviet tank forces were repulsed after hard fighting. German and Rumanian troops pursued the enemy and achieved large territorial gains. The Russians suffered severe losses in men, materials and munitions. The booty included large quantities of war material, numerous machine-guns and several thousands of prisoners.

Twenty-seven Soviet bombers who were attempting to raid a German airfield yesterday were all shot down by fighters and anti-aircraft fire. A total of 128 Soviet planes were shot down on July 8, of which 70 were accounted for in air battles. On July 7 the Soviets lost 201 planes.

Heroic Resistance
STOCKHOLM, July 9 (UP)—A Finnish broadcast from Lulea this afternoon, describing the battle for the Stalin Line in the northernmost sector between Ostrov and Lake Peipus stated that the fighting was very fierce according to a German report. The Red Army is resisting heroically in the "bloodiest battle of the war so far."

DEMAND FOR SECOND-HAND WREATHS

"There is apparently a good demand for second-hand wreaths and these thefts are getting very common," said Det-Sergeant V. M. Morrison to Mr. H. G. Sheldon, r.c., at Central Magistrate's court this morning, when Chan Yee, 47, flower-stall feller of No. 5 O'Brien Road, Wanchai, and So Yau, 20, unemployed, admitted stealing ten wreaths, valued at $20, from the grave of an Indian Inspector of Police at the Sikh Cemetery, Happy Valley, yesterday.

Sergeant Morrison added that the framework of the wreaths could be used over and over again with fresh flowers and that there was a good market for second-hand wreaths. First Defendant himself was a dealer in flowers and wreaths.

Defendants were sentenced to six weeks' hard labour each.

JUNK SUNK OFF NAVAL CAMBER

Salvage work on a junk which is sunk approximately 250 feet WNW from the northern end of the Oiling Jetty, Naval Camber, Kowloon, is being commenced.

Release Of Funds

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP)—It is reliably indicated that the United States soon, possibly on Thursday, expects to assert that Spain will come under the general license for the release of frozen credits here.

Legal Appointment

LONDON, July 9 (Reuter)—Mr. K. E. Poyser, former Chief Justice of the Straits Settlements, has been appointed Legal Adviser to the Dominion Office and Colonial Office in succession to Sir Henry Bush, recently appointed Governor of Barbados.

Plans for the organisation of an Economic Mission to India and the South Sea countries to study the possibility of marketing Chinese goods there are under discussion by a group of leading Chinese industrialists in Shanghai and Hongkong.

LARGE BAIL ESTREATED

Warrant Against Alleged Briber

Bail of $2,500 was estimated and a warrant of arrest was issued to be issued against Robert Thomas Chan, alias Chan Cheung, 30, rent collector, of No. 45 Kai Yee Road, when he failed to appear before Mr. D. J. N. Anderson at Kowloon Magistrate's court this morning on the charge of offering a bribe to a European medical officer.

Chan was alleged to have offered Mr. C. Jones, of the Medical Department, on June 27 with intent to influence his conduct as a public servant, namely, to unseal the doors of 500 Queen's Road, West, to release some 400,000 tins of canned goods, of which at least eight per cent. were unfit for human consumption.

Mr. F. W. Shaftain, Assistant Director of Criminal Investigation, stated that he understood that Defendant had left the Colony and asked his Worship to estreat the bail and to issue a warrant for Defendant's arrest.

Mr. W. M. Brown appeared for Defendant.

Gambling On Ping Chau

Police Raid Succeeds

Because of complaints received from inhabitants of Ping Chau Island of the prevalence of street gambling, a party of Police officers, led by Mr. L. A. Searle, Assistant Superintendent of Police, carried out a raid about 8 p.m. yesterday.

Acting Sub-Inspector A. F. Estall, prosecuted eight men before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Court of the District Office, South, this morning, for playing pai-kau and fan-tan in Wing On Street, Ping Chau Island, New Territories.

Defendants were Kwok Ngau-chai, 34, Ho Fo, 26, Wong Ching-chai, 54, Fong Kwok-kai, 50, Kong Kan-yau, 28, Tsang Chun, 41, Chan Hing-fong, 28, and So Shiu, 31. Fourth Defendant, who pleaded not guilty, was discharged with a caution, while the remaining Defendants admitted the charge and were each fined $3 or three days' hard labour.

A sum of $3.63 picked up was given to the Poor Box and the gambling gear was ordered confiscated.

Methods Of Pig Thieves

To Prevent Squealing

A common practice of pig thieves of sprinkling lime over pigs to prevent them from squealing, was revealed by Sergeant Morris at Central Magistrate's court before Mr. H. G. Sheldon, r.c., this morning.

Ma Kum-hung, 20, Cheung Chuen, 25, and Chan Tak, 22, all unemployed, were charged with loitering with intent to commit a felony on the hillside opposite the South China Bathing Shed, King's Road, North Point, at 11.30 p.m. on Tuesday.

Lui Sai, a watchman employed to look after pig-stys in that area, stated in evidence that he saw five men approach a sty. When challenged they ran off but he arrested the Second Defendant. An alarm was raised and two others were arrested by the Police while they were hiding under the South China bathing shed.

Defendants denied loitering in the area but admitted felonious intent. A gunny bag and a parcel of white lime found near one of the stys was produced in Court.

LATE NEWS

Syria Armistice Reported Signed

LONDON, July 10 (Reuter)—An armistice is reported to have been signed between the French authorities in Syria and the Allied representatives.

There is no official confirmation of this as yet.

Earlier the Columbia Broadcasting System's correspondent at Ankara reported that an agreement to be signed between Vichy and the Allies contained ten points, including firstly, that all Vichy war materials were to be handed over intact to the Allies, as well as the administration and communications; secondly, an offer to be made to French soldiers, officers and civil officials to join the Free French or else to be repatriated to France; thirdly, Syria and Lebanon immediately to join the sterling bloc.

British Forces Will Remain In Iceland

can policy is, therefore, in complete harmony with British interest and we have no reason to object to it at any time. I cannot see that we should have any grounds for taking any other attitude in view of the invitation extended to the U.S.A. by the Icelandic government.

"We still propose to retain our army in Iceland and as the British and U.S. forces will both have the same object in view, namely the defence of Iceland, it seems very likely that they will co-operate closely and effectively in resisting any attempt by Hitler to gain a footing."

Second Principle
After stating that he found "no reason for regretting the steps which the U.S. have taken in the circumstances forced upon them," Mr. Churchill turned to what he understood to be the second principle which led the U.S. to the occupation of Iceland. This he thought he found in the declared will and purpose of the President, Congress and people of the United States namely to send all possible aid in munitions and supplies to Britain but also to make sure that they arrive.

U.S. Responsibility

"Here again is a course of action for which the U.S. must take full responsibility. Apart from this position, U.S. forces in Iceland will require to be sustained at sea from time to time. These consignments to America very dangerous water and as we have a very large traffic passing through these waters, it may be found in practice mutually advantageous for the two navies involved to assist each other as far as convenient in that part of the waters. I do not think that I need say anything further about a matter which seems so very plain and simple."

Capital Raided

HELSINKI, July 9 (UP)—The Finnish capital had its second bad air raid last night and the casualties are believed to be much higher than on Sunday night.

Shortly after the air raid alarm, the fiercest barrage the city has ever heard began around the suburbs. Soviet bombers flew over the city and three planes flew over the city and released bombs, heavily damaging more than a half dozen buildings.
